Chance Like This Won't Come Again

The Detwiler "Miracle Mile" project, details of which have now been given to the public, is opposed and will be opposed by two kinds of people:

1. Those who won't take the trouble to study the plan and its implications and

2. Those who are so narrowly reactionary that they believe no good can come out of Wall Street, just as certain ancient bigots used to say that no good could come out of Nazareth.

An overwhelming majority of Edmonton people is both informed and progressive and this majority knows that the "Miracle Mile" represents nothing but clear profit for citizens and taxpayers and a chance to rehabilitate a down-at-heel downtown area that will never in this world present itself again.

Ten minutes study of the plan should convert those citizens whose opposition has been based on lethargy.

But it is doubtful if the reactionaries would be converted between now and the end of time because, wallowing in fallacies, they are intent only on seeing Edmonton stand still and if the Angel Gabriel came down with a brand new golden city on a brand new golden platter, they still wouldn't believe it because they would 't want to.

The first class hand-painted fallacy trotted out by the reactionaries is that the tax concession given in the agreement is considerably more than what this area would yield in taxes if buildings comparable to those of the Detwiler project were erected upon it.

The fallacious nature of this argument is so plain that a child could spot it.

This area becomes a source of tax revenue only when the Detwiler people build on it. At present it yields nothing. Nor is it ever likely to yield anything until it is improved.

A chance for a huge improvement like the Detwiler project comes only once in a lifetime.

It is true that this area might be built up piecemeal by smaller investors. It is just a bare possibility. But would piecemeal development afford parking space for 1,800 cars? Would it give the city an auditorium and museum and market upon which Edmonton would have had to spend millions of dollars in the next few years?

That parking space is the greatest civic asset in the whole plan because retail buying is done today by automobile. If people can't take their automobiles into the downtown area, they will shop elsewhere. And that would be the end of the central shopping district and the end of dowtown property values.

This is not theory but the fruit of actual experience in New York, Boston, Seattle, Los Angeles and dozens of other cities where shopping has moved holus-bolus to the city outskirts and downtown areas have gone dead—all because of traffic and parking problems.

The First New Amsterdam Corporation pays $50,000 a year ground rent and 25 per cent of net revenue for the first 40 years and 30 per cent thereafter.

If the city received not one single cent it would still have an auditorium, a museum, an art gallery, a market and a great handsome city centre which will give a tremendous moral lift to every part of Edmonton and make the progressiveness of this city talked about in every section of the continent.

This plan is essential to the stability of property values in Edmonton. It will not cost the taxpayer a single cent. It is the greatest opportunity offered to any western city since the existence of the west.

Exam Necessary Before Ferguson Gets Top Spot

Acting Chief William Ferguson has not been offered the post of fire chief.

He will have to take some form of written or oral exam before commissioners offer him the job.

Exams for all jobs in the fire department, including that of chief, were specified in recommendations of both New York consultant Harold J. Burke and the Western Canada Fire Underwriters at last year's O'Connor enquiry into the Northern Hardware building fire.

"Those reports were adopted by council, and are our Bible in dealing with reorganization of the department," Mayor Sid Parsons said.

CONTROVERSIAL QUESTION

At Monday night's council meeting, aldermen referred back to commissioners for action, the controversial question of refusal by 12 applicants for the chief's job to write exams.

It was then generally agreed and understood commissioners would offer Acting Chief Ferguson the job, and two motions dealing with exams for the 12 applicants were never put to the vote.

Today, Mayor Parsons said, "We haven't reached the point of offering Mr. Ferguson the job. We are not in a position to say what exam he must write first, because we have not decided what source we'll get the exam material from."

MAYOR NOT WORRIED

But the mayor said he is "not a bit worried about Mr. Ferguson's ability to carry on as acting chief. I think he can do a fairly good job on the necessary re-organization that must be carried out in the fire department."

Queried by the Bulletin, the acting chief said he definitely had not been offered the post of chief. He added there were a lot of complications in the situation, but he definitely will have to take some form of exam before the offer is made.

ON-THE-SPOT SURVEY

His understanding of the situation is that the fire underwriters association will be asked to make an on-the-spot survey of the department, determine the city's policy, and then prepare some form of test of his ability.

It appears, he said, that the Burke exam papers will not be used in his case.

Accused Alleges Chinese Attacked Her In Store

Statements that she had been criminally attacked by Wei Hon "Jimmy" Pon before the April 20 slaying were admitted as evidence in the third day of the murder trial yesterday of Mrs. Marie Smith.

Detective Sgt. James E. Peterson testified the statements were made to him by the accused, Mrs. Smith, 11025-84 street, the day following her arrest.

Statements made by Mrs. Marie Smith to the police following her arrest were voluntary Mr. Justice Boyd McBride ruled Thursday.

BETWEEN SOBS

In the statements, made in her cell "between sobs" the 20-year-old bride told how she had gone to Pon's store at 96 street and 102A avenue after visiting her sisters in the W. W. Sales block. She was on her way home and intended to buy food, she said.

"I entered the store and the Chinaman said he was just locking up for the night," Det. Sgt. Peterson quoted her as saying.

"He locked the door behind me and he started right away to catch hold of my coat and hand . . . he pushed me into a small room at the rear of the store and raped me standing up."

CRYING AND HOLLERING

"I was crying and hollering and fighting all the time," the detective quoted. "I couldn't get away so I bit him on the nose, hard.

"Then he turned me loose and I ran to the front of the store and tried to get out but the door was locked."

The accused went on to say in one statement the Chinese had pursuaded her and demanded: "Are you going to stay?"

When she replied "No," the gro-

Shaft Is Swamped As Ditch Overflows

All five men trapped in the Cadomin Coal Company mine are believed drowned, a report at press time from the devastated town said. The rescue party is still at work.

Five men are entombed in a Cadomin coal mine today, victims of a flood of water which swept into the workings.

Little hope is held for the lives of the trapped Coal Branch district miners.

Torrential rains in the district flooded a run-off ditch in front of the mine, about 8 p.m. yesterday while a 30-man crew was at work in the mine

It carried mud and silt through mouth of the mine into the workings, trapping five of the crew. The men may have died of lack of oxygen if they escape being swamped by the mud and water.

Mike Kapusinky, Flatbush.
"Red" Kasonovich, Cadomin.

25 Men Reach Safety

They were five members of a 30-man crew working in the mine last night. Remaining 25 members escaped death by a hair's breadth when they rushed through swirling mud and waters to the mine entrance and safety.

Flash flood of the Macleod river yesterday in the rich Coal Branch area 200 miles southwest of Edmonton created havoc throughout the entire area, hurling its full force upon the 1,200 population of Cadomin.

The devastation, caused when torrential rains and fast melting snow in the mountains ballooned the Macleod river, which is normally just a stream, into full flood.

In the space of a few hours the rampaging river had:

Completely destroyed three homes at Cadomin and washed away two others;

Forced the evacuation of 125 river-front residents of Cadomin;

Destroyed the main water supply dam at Mountain Park, higher along its course;

Washed out all bridges between Marcoal and Cadomin and flooded all highways between Mountain Park and Marcoal.

Flooded a strip mine at Mountain Park;

Cut all telephone communication between the outside world and Cadomin;

Caused two rock and mud slides on the CNR line at Leyland and smaller slides at Mountain Park.

Volunteers Assist

This afternoon relatives of the entombed men wait with little hope beyond the barrrier that rescue workers have flung up in front of the flooded mine to prevent spectators from hampering their frantic efforts.

Volunteer workers rushing into Cadomin from Marcoal and Mountain Park by the one train running along the line or by horseback are supplementing regular rescue crews.

Last of the 25 men who escaped the stricken pit was "Windy" Shearer, well-known hockey goalie.

"The water was up to my neck," he told The Bulletin, describing the miners' desperate race to safety when water poured in through the ceiling of the mine.

"Water poured down the mine shaft and cut off the fans . . . it was terrible," he said.

"We had some trouble like this at the mine last fall, but nothing as bad as this. There's been nothing like it in the last 25 years."

CNR officials at Edson discounted another report that the flash flood had taken the lives of three railway section men. "All crews working in the flooded area are accounted for, and we are sure no one is missing," an official at Edson said.

Heavy rains in the past two days have swelled the normally-peaceful Macleod River to a furious torrent.

First fears for the safety of Coal Branch residents were kindled Tuesday afternoon when a severe three-hour electric storm struck the area.

Highway traffic is also halted as the surging waters wash over the Coal Branch road for 12 miles south of Coalspur. All bridges between Marcoal and Cadomin were washed away at the height of the flood last night. Only one bridge between Mountain Park and Cadomin—has withstood battering by the wild river.

Heat Brings Flood

Meanwhile, unusually hot weather melted a foot-deep snowfall remaining in the mountains, and caused every mountainside waterfall feeding the Macleod into a torrent.

Then, almost without warning, the full fury of the Macleod rushed down upon the coal mining town of Cadomin, sweeping mud and water over Cadomin with what eye-witnesses called "a terrific impact."

The flood crest rushed through the town, completely isolating the Cadomin mine and the Cadomin hotel.

The entire south section of the town is cut off this morning by the swirling Macleod river waters, risen four feet above their normal level in the three hours immediately before midnight last night.

The wild river struck three privately - owned houses in the lowlying area of South Cadomin, wrenching them from the ground and floating them away.

A mile north of Cadomin, at Leyland, the flood washed out two bridges and completely inundated the Riverside grocery store.

Meanwhile swollen mountainside tributaries of the river hurled two mud and rockslides of three foot depth across the CNR track at Leyland, halting all railway traffic.

A 200-man crew from Edson was despatched immediately to the area and will have the track cleared of the second 80-foot long slide this morning.

Highway traffic is also halted as the surging waters wash over the Coal Branch road for 12 miles south of Coalspur. All bridges between Marcoal and Cadomin were washed away at the height of the flood last night. Only one bridge between Mountain Park and Cadomin—has withstood battering by the wild river.

ORCHIDS FLY AS GAL PRAISES LOCAL GALS

Edmonton girls had a bunch of orchids "pinned" on them by a visiting member of their own sex here yesterday.

Vancouver, she said, wasn't in the picture.

Then she really passed out the orchids.

"Edmonton," she said, "Abounds in beautiful girls."

Forest Fire Hazard Cut

Return to cool damp weather in Alberta is reducing the fire hazard in forests which were tinder-dry after a week-long heat wave.

One new fire was reported over night. Located north of Hines Creek, it is burning out of control now, but may be checked shortly by a six man crew despatched to the area.

Fire fighters are making good progress towards extinguishing major blazes at Fort Chipwyan, north of Calling Lake, and northeast of Wintercurt.

The fires were brought under control yesterday, and little damage to marketable timber resulted in any of the areas.

Smaller fires in scattered areas of the province were also being kept in check today.

Fire fighters in most districts were aided by light rains which fell yesterday and last night.

Chiang Plans Air Assaults

TAIPEH, Formosa, June 15—(BUP) — An all-out air war was forecast today following a Nationalist Chinese warning that all Chinese Communist ports, airfields and military installations would be heavily attacked.

Yesterday's order to all neutral shipping to avoid China's closed ports was regarded here as an indication that the Nationalists intend to resume bombing attacks of Shanghai and Canton which suddenly ceased when the Communists appeared flying Soviet jet-fighters in their defence of Shanghai.

An air force spokesman made it plain that the Nationalists still consider all Communist ports "closed" and would bomb any ships either Chinese, American or British found in Communist waters.

Senators Critical Of Lodging Clause

Storm Of Protest Greets Proposal Of Prime Minister

OTTAWA, June 15.— (CP) — A storm of criticism broke in the Senate yesterday over a clause in a bill providing that Canada's prime minister will pay $5,000 a year to live in an official residence being established in Ottawa for him and future holders of that office.

The clause was described as, "cheap" and an "affront to good taste" by senators from all sides of the chamber. Despite insistence by Prime Minister St. Laurent, senators said, it never should have been accepted and most agreed the clause should be eliminated "before this bill leaves this house."

The legislation, providing for operation and maintenance of a former mansion on the Ottawa River now being renovated as an official residence, was given second reading. But it was promptly sent to the Senate's banking and commerce committee for further study.

Debate also brought charges that the handling of establishment of an official residence had been "bungled," and suggestions that Canada's prime minister should get more than his present $23,000 a year.

CHEAP PRICE

Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, explained that Mr. St. Laurent had insisted that he should not be "any better off" for moving into an official residence and had insisted on making a payment of $5,000 a year for himself and his wife.

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, agreed with the idea of an official residence, but the prime minister should not be charged anything for occupancy. It should be a private home, not a "cash" for entertaining. The official residence should provide a haven where the head of the nation could "get away from publicity."

Senator Haig thought the prime minister should get more. If he were hiring a man to run the country he would "pay him not a cent less than $100,000 a year and would be getting him cheap at that price."

CRITICAL OF CLAUSE

Senator T. A. Crerar (I—Manitoba) said it was an affront to good taste to put in a bill a clause saying the prime minister would pay $5,000 a year for "board and lodging." He suggested, the prime minister be given a living allowance of $20,000 or $25,000 a year tax free with which he and his lady could run the official residence their own way and hire their own staff.

Senator Thomas Reid (L—British Columbia) said some heads "should be hung in shame" for having inserted the clause providing a $5,000 annual payment.

Senator R. B. Horner (PC — Saskatchewan) said it was "a monstrous thing—the biggest piece of bungling I've ever heard of."

B.C. Logger Strike Ends Before Start

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 15—(BUP) — British Columbia's 32,000 coastal woodworkers called off a threatened strike today six hours before it was due to start.

Officials of the CIO International Woodworkers of America came out of a continuous, nine-hour mediation session with government and company representatives to say it was in their best interests, and those of the province generally, that they accept a compromise 1950 contract.

The strike, for higher pay, shorter hours and a union shop, was to have begun between 7.00 and 8.00 a.m. local time in coastal lumber mills and plants on the mainland, Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlottes.

SETTLE FOR LESS

The union settled for less than the general 17-cent hourly pay raise, five-day, 40-hour week and union shop it had demanded.

Pending ratification by rank and file members, a union policy committee accepted 163 companies' offer of a 12½ cent boost, a 40-hour week and a "maintenance of membership" clause in the new contract.

Union officials said the clause provided that all loggers, bunkhouse workers and other men affected who belonged to the union when the agreement was signed would have to stay members for its duration.

"I grabbed the blade but he kept twisting it and turning it so I couldn't catch it. Then we both fell down and I got hold of the knife and I hit the Chinaman three or four times and ran from the back where I washed my face and ran from the door."

"I was crazy that time and could not think of anything but to get away," she said in one of the statements given by Det. Sgt. Peterson.

The woman's accounts, which differed in minor details, went on to tell how she hired a cab and drove home.

On her return, her husband demanded to know if she had been "stepping out on him," and asked how she got home.

"When I told him I took a taxi he said 'I'll check up on that' and went down town."

ATTEMPTED TO WASH

She told how she had unsuccessfully attempted to wash the blood from her clothes in his absence and was forced to tell him of the fight. It was at her husband's insistence, she said, that she went with him to the police to report.

Det. Sgt. Peterson also told yesterday of finding $6,176 in blood-stained bills and change concealed in the Smith apartment.

The money was hidden in a sock rolled up inside three other socks, which were found in the bottom of a shopping bag under some soiled clothing, he said.

Det. James Campbell told the court of finding the sum of $50.65 untouched in the grocer's right-hand trousers' pocket.

BLOOD IN POCKETS

Smears of blood were also found in the pockets, he said.

Defence cousel Guy Patterson, KC, objected during the presentation of this evidence.

"My learned friend appears to give the impression someone's bloody hand went into the pockets. I want to know who's hand," he said.

His objection was overruled by Mr. Justice Boyd McBride.

2 ARE HOSPITALIZED AFTER 3-CAR CRASH

A "chain reaction" accident last night at Jasper avenue and 111 street intersection nearly wrecked one car and sent two of its passengers to hospital.

Mrs. R. Armstrong and Colin Armstrong, five, of 11149-96 street were found to be suffering from shock and bruises.

Driver of their car, Ross Armstrong, same address, told police he was stopped at the intersection behind one car when another auto hit him from behind. He had been going east on Jasper at the time.

The impact forced Armstrong's car ahead into one driven by Mrs. Jennie Stein, 11014-125 street. The car behind Armstrong was driven by Erhardt Guhl, 9741-81 avenue, according to police report.

Armstrong's car had its rear and front smashed and is described as "almost a total wreck".

Light damage was sustained by the other two vehicles.

'Gamblingest' Nation Is U.S., Says Magazine

NEW YORK, June 15 — (AP) — Life magazine said United States bookmakers and other gambling racketeers make an annual profit of $6,000,000,000 — more than the combined profits of United States Steel, General Motors, General Electric and the 97 other largest manufacturing companies.

In its current issue, the magazine reports the results of a coast-to-coast survey.

The United States today is "the gamblingest nation that ever existed," with 50,000,000 adults and many minors betting almost $30,000,000,000 a year, the magazine said.

Gas Wanted In Okanagan

KELOWNA, B.C., June 15—(CP) —Extension of the proposed natural gas pipeline to include the Okanagan Valley, in an effort to encourage the interior's secondary industries, was urged yesterday by W. A. C. Bennett, Coalition M.L.A. for South Okanagan.

Mr. Bennett said fruit growers' losses caused by this year's unprecedented cold winter necessitated looking farther afield for industries which will offset seasonal labor conditions in the fruit industry.

If natural gas was available, there would be a tendency to decentralize industry, giving work to many presently employed on a seasonal basis.

During recent years, population of the interior has tripled and steps must be taken to provide full employment, said Mr. Bennett.

50 Killed, 200 Wounded In Peru Revolution

LIMA, Peru, June 15.—(UP)—The Peruvian military government claimed today its armed forces had smashed a revolution that began in Peru's second largest city of Arequipa.

Dr. Juan Francisco Mostajo, leader of the revolutionary movement, said last night by phone from Arequipa that 50 persons had been killed and 200 wounded in clashes between the rebels and government forces.

He said the rebels were in "full control" at dark last night and that Peruvian army troops in the nearby resort town of Tiago had not left their barracks to intervene at that time.

But the government announcement early today said the troops had marched into Arequipa to put down the uprising. Arequipa is 490 miles southeast of here.

A spokesman for the government radio here said he had heard radio Landa in Arequipa broadcasting a report to the people that the rebels had surrendered.

Mostajo, who was banned as an opposition candidate for the vice-presidency of Peru, said citizens staged the revolt yesterday against Arequipa authorities after police had killed several striking students who had barricaded themselves on the campus of the American Independence College.

JACK SCOTT

Ogopogo Is Very Real And Very Profitable

KELOWNA, B.C.—If you were casting a play and a part called for "respectable small city physician" you'd have a natural in Dr. A. Stanley Underhill, one of the men who have seen the monster.

JACK SCOTT

Dr. Underhill looks at you with a clinical but tolerant eye from behind rimless spectacles, speaks in a precise, deliberate manner, pauses thoughtfully before answering a question. You've met this kind of man. The kind of doctor you'd like to have when they slip the ether mask over you. Or the kind of man you'd have hold the dough on a wager.

So when Dr. Underhill begins to talk about the monster as calmly and quietly as he'd talk about your upset stomach, it just naturally gives you a creepy feeling.

AUTHORITY

I know all this because when we arrived in Kelowna I enquired about for a man (a) who had seen the thing and (b) a man above suspicion. Everybody said "Go see the doc."

The doctor sort of sighed when I asked him. "Yes, I saw it last year," and said, "and my daughter saw it a few days ago. In my own case I saw two of them. That's meant that I take twice as much kidding as the others who've seen it.

"Got so now I don't mind the kidding," the doctor said. "I also do not expect anyone who hasn't seen it to believe me.

"Fact, I don't talk about it much any more unless somebody asks me. Then I simply say that I saw them. Saw them clearly through binoculars for at least five minutes. And that I am no longer a disbeliever. Call it what you like. Ogopogo is very real."

AND OTHERS

I produce this fragment of somepretty overwhelming testimony because it now seems to me that the story of Ogopogo has a lot more foundation of fact than, say, flying saucers. I'm kind of sorry it turned out this way. All during our drive north along the shore of beautiful Okanagan Lake I was chuckling and slapping my thigh over the funny things I was going to write about the fools and alcoholics and crackpots who have seen Ogopogo.

Soon as I started my enquiries I knew I'd have to abandon all that. Some of the valley's soliest, sober-

VISITOR through Edmonton today was John Foster Dulles, U.S. Republican aide to state department. Accompanied by Mrs. Dulles he was bound for Japan to study peace problems in that country.

erest citizens have seen the thing in that deep blue lake and long before anyone thought of it as a tourist attraction. Dr. Underhill's guess is that a great many others have seen it, but just aren't talking.

DIGNIFIED

The descriptions vary in detail, but they add up to something from another age. There was the evidence, for example, of Squadron Leader Bruce Millar and his wife out for a pleasant drive along the shore when they saw it.

"It was a lithe, sinewy monster, 75 feet in length, with a coiled back and a dignified demeanor," the squadron leader says. "Periodically, his progress would be halted as he lay quietly in the water, head well raised and surveyed the lake with calm dignity. Then his tail would rise, there would be a splash and he'd weigh anchor."

Or L. L. Kerry, who had a party of four in his boat, all of whom observed the thing from less than 200 feet. "Had a long, sinuous body about 30 feet in length," Kerry reports. "We saw five undulations separate from each other by about a two-foot space in which that part of the undulation would have been under water. From time to time the whole thing submerged under water and then came up again."

BEST UNPICKLED

Or Leslie Johnstone ("three distinct black humps just a short distance out of the water, spaced about six feet apart") or Cedric Boyer ("a series of ten to twelve loops") or Captain Jack McLeod, a tugboat skipper ("it threw a considerable wake across the lake") or R. A. Roylance ("about 60 to 70 feet long and 18 inches in diameter and I don't drink either") or half a hundred more.

I became so impressed with the evidence on hand that I asked one resort owner why no effort was made to trap Ogopogo.

"Heaven forbid!" the man said. "Why, in the early days men patrolled the lake shore with guns to protect their homes from him. They tried to catch him with huge chunks of meat on iron hooks and cable lines. Only a year or two ago some youngsters shot at him with rifles. Illegal under Section 26 of the B.C. Fisheries Act.) I shudder to think what would have happened if he'd been killed. A dead Ogopogo in a jar of formaldehyde? Why it has nothing on a real, live Ogopogo who may be seen by any lucky visitor."

Manning Wants Rates Subsidized

Federal Treasury Should Bear Load Of Increase In West

Alberta Premier E. C. Manning has called upon the federal government to subsidize railway freight rates in western Canada.

He has asked Prime Minister St. Laurent to meet railway freight rate increases with public treasury funds.

Mr. Manning today made public his reply to the Canadian prime minister's refusal to suspend a 3.4 per cent freight rate increase scheduled to come into effect tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the province's arguments are being marshalled for an appeal against the latest increase and another previously authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Mr. Manning will leave Edmonton this evening to confer with J. P. Frawley, K.C., special counsel on freight rates for the Alberta government, in Ottawa tomorrow. Points of the province's appeal against the rising freight costs will be discussed.

OTTAWA REFUSED

Alberta government appealed to the Canadian prime minister June 6 to countermand the latest 3.4 freight rate increases.

Federal authorities refused to take the action recommended by the province, claiming that unless additional revenue was provided the railway through the increased freight rates, funds would have to be taken from the public treasury to meet railway operating costs.

"I am sure you would not suggest that we should at this time recommend to parliament that the additional revenue be provided from the treasury," Mr. St. Laurent told the Alberta premier.

In his reply made public today, Mr. Manning suggests that assistance to the railways should be provided by treasury funds instead of by freight rate increase.

TIME HAS COME

Mr. Manning said the freight rate situation has become such that the railways are unable or unwilling to agree on a freight rate increase equably to all parts of the freight rate structure and to all sections of Canada.

"The time has arrived when the public treasury should be called upon to provide the amount of the increase and so prevent the unfair discrimination," Mr. Manning said.

Arguing that the latest increase will fall chiefly on Alberta, Mr. Manning said other areas of Canada in which competition is in effect will virtually escape the rate increase.

"It is our conviction that to call upon Alberta or any other province to pay not only its own share, but also the share which competitive rate areas escape would be injected by providing assistance to the railways out of the public treasury."

Commissioners Rush Plans For Calder Mains

City Commissioners have decided to lay an additional trunk water main to Calder this year, instead of next year as originally planned.

Mayor Sid Parsons made the announcement today, as water rationing became effective.

"We just can't stand for the situation in Calder," he said.

The decision to ration water for the third year followed a Sunday and Monday drought in Calder, where, despite erection of a 250,000 gallon water tower, only a trickle of water was available after 2 p.m. each day.

DECISION MONDAY

The new line to be laid this year will go up 106 street to Calder, and will solve not only the drought there, but will help the area west of 97 street and north of 127 avenue.

Final decision will be asked from council at its special meeting Monday night, called to deal with the Detwiler proposal.

"Construction will be proceeded with just as soon as we can get the pipe," said the mayor.

"While we hope to get it done this year, it won't be in time for the gardening season."

It had not been intended to proceed with the main this year, but the situation in the northwest area of the city has reached such a point "that we feel it can't be tolerated any longer."

New feeder mains to serve the west end, running from 96 avenue up 108 street to 111 avenue, and then west to the city limits, will be ready this year.

Flowers alone have been planted in the strip on 109 street between 82 and 83 avenues.

If the experiment proves successful, flowers probably will be planted next year in the centre strip on Jasper west of 109 street.

Second Persian Gulf Crash Raises Toll Of Dead To 76

BAHREIN ISLAND, Persian Gulf, June 15—(UP)—An Air France Skymaster carrying 52 persons, plunged into the Persian Gulf today at almost the same spot a sister plane crashed two days ago with a loss of 47 lives. Airline officials raised the possibility of sabotage by Indo-Chinese Communists.

Twenty-nine were killed, 10 are missing and 13 were rescued in today's crash, raising the dual disaster toll to a possible 87.

The second plane, flying from Saigon in Indo-China with a stop-over at Karachi, crashed into the sea two miles off Bahrein Island shortly after sending a message that it was coming in for a landing.

The circumstances were almost identical to last Tuesday's crash. Today's plane crashed at 45 minutes past midnight. Tuesday's crash was 15 minutes past midnight.

Eleven survivors were picked up from today's wreckage by surface craft and helicopters still searching the waters in the area for 12 bodies missing from Tuesday's crash.

22 BODIES

The searchers brought in 22 bodies from today's crash along with the 11 survivors. All those aboard the plane were French citizens with the exception of five Viet Namese and two Chinese.

An Air France inquiry commission which arrived here to investigate Tuesday's crash ordered its experts to examine the two planes for signs of sabotage, a member of the commission said.

He said that although sandstorms are frequent at this time of year in the gulf area, the weather was clear and visibility good at the time of today's crash.

However, the commission banned further night landings at Bahrein, which Air France has been using for three months in place of the field at Basra, Iraq.

Mayor Is Mistaken

The point that concerns most Edmonton people about the city police department is not the misdemeanors of a few of its members but the general understaffing and equipment of the department itself.

Therefore when Mayor Sidney Parsons rushes to the defence of the department on this matter of misdemeanors, he entirely misses the boat.

Everybody knows that a few persons in any working body will occasionally run off the rails. If it is a public body, like the police department, the public insists upon disciplinary action.

In this regard there seems to be nothing to worry about because Chief Constable Jennings has taken prompt and proper action in each case.

What does worry the Edmonton public is that the civic administration does not seem to be aware that the city has outgrown the capacity of the force.

It does not seem to be aware that even if the present minimum pay of $165 per month is enough to "keep the force up to strength" it is still not enough to pay competent policemen and what the civic block calls the "strength" of the force is not adequate to the actual and potential police needs of a growing city in boom times.

Mayor Parsons' passionate defence of Edmonton's policemen looks too much like an attempt to divert public attention from the numerical inadequacy of the force.

No one, as the mayor implies, is trying to instigate an enquiry into the department because of these misdemeanors.

The misdemeanors are minor and have been properly dealt with.

No one, as the mayor implies, is libelling the standard of the men because the pay is below the levels paid in other parts of Canada.

But this newspaper, for one, is endeavoring to lay down the principle that it is expensive and uneconomical to train policemen who are going to be attracted, eventually, to other forces where the pay is more nearly adequate.

We are trying to have the civic administration explain why a force which had one constable to every 763 citizens in 1920 can possibly be effective today with one constable to every 1,292 citizens.

Would Mayor Parsons please answer that?

'Alberta's Cabinet Representation

Everyone in Ottawa expects extensive cabinet changes after the prorogation of parliament at the end of the month.

That is good news for Alberta and particularly for Edmonton because those changes should include the translation of George Prudham MP into a full cabinet member.

Mr. Prudham has been acting as parliamentary assistant to the resources minister Robert Winter and it is no secret that this appointment was to afford him experience as a prelude to the higher rank.

Most Albertans feel that the probationary period has been lengthy enough, that Mr. Prudham has more than demonstrated his cabinet capacity and that the sooner his elevation takes place the better.

The Hon. James A. MacKinnon, now a member of the senate for a year, has been acting as Alberta's cabinet representative in spite of handicaps of health.

Indeed, his reluctant acceptance of the prolonged responsibility is in line with the magnificent service he has always given this province.

It is most unfair to ask him to continue this sacrifice indefinitely.

Therefore, for Senator MacKinnon's sake and for the sake of Alberta's general welfare, the early appointment of Mr. Prudham is to be desired.

He is thoroughly acceptable to every section of the province and to every section of opinion within the province.

For Purposes of Bedevilment

In reply to the projected United States defence appropriations of $13,545,000,000 for the current fiscal year, the Soviet Union has presented a defence budget which amounts to $19,850,000,000 in U.S. funds.

How much of this colossal sum will actually be devoted to military preparedness is a question.

But one thing is sure, it is not necessarily a prelude to war. The Russians could bring down a military budget of a trillion dollars without any real intention of attack.

This sum, if it is real, is intended for purposes of bedevilment.

Where the United States appropriation will be devoted entirely to defensive projects, the Russian appropriation will be devoted to softening up weaker nations for Soviet infiltration and for keeping the western world in a state of anxiety.

The Soviet is probably less anxious to conquer the world by arms than to worry the world into a condition of unrest where the Hewlet Johnsons and the Endicotts will have a better chance to convince everybody that the appeasement of Russia is the only proper course.

Flood Control and Flood Warning

One can well understand the anxiety of Winnipeg people over a recurrence of the Red River flood which translates itself into a request to Ottawa for a "flood warning" board to function until the "flood control" board gets into action.

But the measures under way to prevent another disaster of this kind have already become over-complex.

There is apparently an international joint board to study the causes of flooding.

There is to be an engineering investigation into possible measures to prevent flooding within Canada.

And now Winnipeg wants still another board to warn the city if the Red appears to be ready to cut loose again.

It will appear to many that greater efficiency would be attained in these several purposes if they were all allotted to a single board and if that board were asked to proceed with utmost haste so that proper and effective steps may be taken before the danger period next year.

It seems strange that the flood danger which was hitherto magnified, because nobody was interested in doing anything at all should now be magnified because too many people want to do too many things in too many ways.

Letters to the Editor

Flag Plebiscite

Editor, Bulletin — There have been many letters dealing with the flag question, showing that the public is still keenly interested in this matter.

I think that the proposals for a Canadian flag submitted to the Government should be exhibited at least in the greater cities of the Dominion. They could be numbered and visitors to the exhibitions could show their preference by casting votes in the form of the number of the flag of their choice. In this way the trend of inclination of the public would come forth on a much larger scale than through correspondence to the daily papers.

The matter is important enough for such action and this correspondent hopes that the Government will take the trouble incidental to exhibitions as here proposed.

Crowded Buses

Editor, Bulletin—I believe that the time is ripe for the people of Edmonton to rise and make a decisive stand for a change in the services rendered to them by the Edmonton Transit System.

The services, which the Edmonton Transit System performs for the city are terrible.

To state an example will make my statement clear. On eighth of June I was waiting for a bus to take me to 115 avenue and 84 street about fifteen minutes to five in the afternoon. At 5.30 had seen four buses go by loaded to the doors and unable to carry any more passengers. All that the drivers could do was to drive through under the circumstances.

However, sometimes you are able to cram yourself onto the bus which goes to 115 avenue and 82 street. During these trips many people have to stand in crowded conditions until the bus reaches 115 avenue and 95 street.

More buses are required for the ever increasing population. This fact is quite evident to even the bus drivers. Are the civic authorities asleep? Are these officials still in a dream world of twenty years ago?

A week or so ago I took a late bus home to 84 street. The driver took the bus down 115 avenue and as he approached 86 street he began to blow his horn. I was on the right side of the bus sitting on the seat in front of the side doors. Suddenly I saw the glare of an automobiles lights and realized something was about to happen. I waited and there was a crash as the car rammed the bus at the side door. Nobody was hurt in the bus but the occupants of the car were banged about.

The point there is, that if a bus is crowded to its extremity and happens to be in collision with another vehicle, what chance have the occupants of the trolley. Perhaps the civic authorities may agree with me here that the people in the wrecked bus have no chance.

Unfortunately reforms come as a direct result of accidents in which fatalities are involved. However if more buses were employed the chances of fatal accidents would be less.

Hymns Sought

Editor, Bulletin—I note with pleasure that the date is set for the first Pops Concert of the season, Thursday, June 15th, and I must get tickets for reserve seats before it is too late.

I know I will enjoy it very much. However, there is always one thought lurking in the back of my mind. Being of a religious nature, I long to hear some sacred music tucked in somewhere.

I remember only two or three years ago, when Lee Hepner played a band concert in front of the Recreation Commission. If I remember correctly they ended the program by playing a beautiful old hymn. Think how beautiful that music would be if played by the Pops Orchestra.

It would seem that there is absolutely no opportunity of hearing a loved old hymn played in orchestral arrangements. What if it is slightly "irregular." If I were planning the concerts it would be "regular."

Green Spots

Editor, Bulletin—This week-end I see paving machinery at the corner of 76 street and 112 avenue. It is very encouraging to see so much new pavement being laid, but we also need a few green spots around the city.

I was hoping to see a little park made of the triangle between 76 and 78 streets and 112 avenue south.

Even Chicago can manage to save the odd green spot for children and tired mothers and maids.

Exercise Self-Control

Editor Bulletin—It's strange no one even suggests personal self-control as a cure for the evils of drunkenness, and the evils of juvenile delinquency? How can the human being born with both good and evil in him and in her, hope to make an honorable success of their lives without the exercise of self-control?

The failure of present-day parents to teach their children self-control is the root of juvenile delinquency.

Spank Criminals

Editor, Bulletin. — Ancient Egypt inaugurated many long-lasting fashions, amongst them, non-educative prison house custody. Modern dictatorships have gladly adapted this system to suit their needs, but in free democratic lands it seems out of place.

In Mexico, for instance, from measles to murder, confinement is the cure. The resultant "cesspools of iniquity" were featured in a recent issue of Life magazine.

Religious conversion is the finest cure for crime as it establishes an inward monitor. Division of the thought track into useful lines of endeavor is next best.

It is good to know that some effort is being made by clergymen and others to get such a reform program in force. For Mr. Tough Guy, who repeatedly proves that crime has a glamorous attraction for him, whatever his age may be, there should be a public court room sentence of a trip to the woodshed.

Unauthorized beatings are rightly illegal, but public conviction to a spanking has something that bird-caged, zebra-suited, useless confinement can never have—the sanction of Holy Writ.

Faith In City

Editor, Bulletin—I am a stranger in your city but I don't feel like one. I came here only three weeks ago to make a home for myself and war amputee husband. I knew no one when I arrived.

Everyone has been very kind to me, helped me in many ways, even given me credit which I much appreciate.

I have a position myself. I have been promised assistance in getting something for my husband to do.

My husband will arrive in Edmonton from Toronto the end of the month. I have not yet got a place for us to live but feel some kind person in this fair and friendly city will rent us a small home or suite. I have every faith in this city and its citizens. I have never been anywhere before where I was shown so much friendship and kindness.

Edmonton Cemeteries Deserve Better Care

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow, between the crosses, row on row", is one of the most beautifully descriptive pieces that has been written, one that conjures up the vision of a cemetery that is both sacred and attractive, one that is both peaceful and yet remembered.

Some day when you are passing the Edmonton cemetery try substituting the word 'dandelion' for poppies and note how aptly this describes the local scene and how forcefully it brings out the untidy, unkept and uncared-for appearance of this plot.

In many cities the cemeteries have the appearance of being parks. In many cases they are far from being pretentious, but the well-cut thick green lawns and trees blend into a scene which is very satisfying, even to a casual stranger.

Edmonton cemeteries deserve better care than they appear to receive, not only because of those who use them, but because of those who see them.

In South Edmonton, Mount Pleasant Cemetery is located in one of the most striking locations in this country. You will not realize just how beautiful the setting is until you actually visit it. If you do, you will find a number of trees which will, with each year become more attractive.

Brownish Tinge To It

You will also find that instead of lawns, that the hill is covered by a coarse type of grass that looks more like the usual type of back-yard pasture than a well kept lawn. It is kept reasonably well cut and in some places the edges have been trimmed, but there is a brownish tinge to it that shows there has been little, if any, sprinkling.

The plot is fairly tidy, but it is a far cry from being the beauty spot that it could be, assuming there is enough water pressure in that area to water it.

The Edmonton Cemetery is a different setting, yet one which could be made attractive. It also has its growing trees. Its driveways are. If anything, better kept. But outside those drives and under those trees, there are areas where the dandelions form solid masses of yellow, when they bloom, and at this time of the year, solid masses of dirty white. It is difficult to imagine anything more untidy looking than a dandelion-filled cemetery.

There are some parts which seem relatively clear, but the areas which are covered are neither small nor are they newly opened.

No Excuse For City

Surely, with the chemicals which are now available, it should be possible to clean up this mess, quite apart from the fact that the city by-laws call for the eradication of such weeds.

That would be an improvement, but it would not be enough. Again there is the matter of lawns which appear coarse and unkept with patches and tufts growing up here and there. I have never heard of any rule against using a lawn-mower on a cemetery, nor one that prevents grass being well watered.

It is in the interests of Edmonton to see to it that the cemeteries are kept up. At present, the would be ashamed to let a stranger see these places.

Strangely enough, there is plenty of water for golf-links. They can always get grass to grow on a baseball diamond. But it is not good enough that a cemetery should hold some resemblance to a cemetery, even if it is a well-treed pasture.

Can't Afford To Neglect

Edmonton is becoming a large city. It can no longer afford to overlook the maintenance of these public areas, and this is particularly true in the case of a cemetery where the landscaping must be done over the whole area.

At present, you find those who can, will try to dig out a few dandelions in their own plot. They will vainly attempt to spray around one small area while seed blows in from all directions.

Even those who have tried to plant better grass find it quickly choked off by the rank varieties which are growing.

This situation is not good enough.

Economy Won't Let Soviet Free Slaves

One of the most gruesome mysteries of our times concerns the millions of men and women—estimates run as high as 20,000,000—in Russia's slave labor camps.

The great majority of them are Russians who, for reasons of state, or for the most trivial of peccadilloes, or for no reason at all, were tapped by the secret police.

In what has rightly been described as Russia's vampire economy, slave labor is a necessity. It helps fill the gap created by a lack of efficient administration and by the absence of high labor productivity.

High labor productivity is impossible without a large degree of mechanization and that rising standard of living which mechanization makes possible.

As a result of successive five-year plans, we have been told that the curve of Russian industrial and agricultural production has risen.

Higher Standard Not Possible

The Russian standard of living remains very low, so low that one of the greatest fears which the men in the Kremlin have is that the Russian people will find out just how low it is in comparison with the standard of living of the peoples of the west.

To give their people a higher standard of living, the Russian leaders would have to abandon many of the policies they have had the Soviet Union pursue.

They would have to accept an effective program of disarmament and accept international control of atomic energy development. They would have to give up what Russia has through bad faith and terrorism acquired abroad.

Costs High Production

Despite very low real wages, production costs in Russia are high. To force them down the Soviet government has had to depend more and more on slave labor.

Most Russia's slaves are not only Russians, including those who like the peoples of the Baltic states, the inhabitants of pre-war Eastern Poland, Ruthenia and Bessarabia, have had Soviet nationality thrust upon them.

There are also in Soviet slave labor camps an unknown number of aliens—German, Japanese, Austrian, Hungarian, Rumanian prisoners of war, deportees from the satellite states, and other foreigners caught in the Kremlin net.

Nobody knows how large this group is.

Some years ago Stalin said that three and a third million Germans were taken prisoners by the Red Army.

But only 1,939,000 of these Germans — those are Russian figures—have been repatriated and now Tass, the Soviet news agency has announced that with their return to their homeland the task of repatriation has been completed.

What happened to the remaining 1,371,000?

This is what the German people would like to know. Were they used up as industrial cannon fodder? Are they still being held in Russian labor camps? Did they just disappear into thin air?

ODDS AND ENDS

By Harold L. Weir

Highly-Touted Tolerance Can Be Very Deadly Thing

This, I know, is social heresy of the blackest type.

But I have my doubts about "tolerance" being all it is cracked up to be.

"Tolerance" is a word that, today, is in everybody's mouth.

WEIR

There must be "tolerance" in religious conviction.

There must be "tolerance" in international relationships.

There must be "tolerance" in all social contacts.

And there must be "tolerance" in family life.

Now if "tolerance" means only respect for the right of the other fellow to believe and act as he sees fit, there is nothing much wrong with it.

It is part of our democratic philosophy that every honest opinion must be given consideration and that every man has the privilege of expressing whatever opinion he sincerely holds.

But "tolerance" has come to mean much more than this.

It has come to mean nothing less than a pooling of opinions.

It has come to be identified with compromise.

Fallacy Dangerous

These meditations stem from an editorial in the London Daily Express which has seen fit to laud Britain for its "tolerance" in dealing with Communist Paul Robeson and to rebuke the United States for its "intolerance" in dealing with Communist Hewlett Johnson.

Paul Robeson, said the Daily Express, has been permitted to come to Britain and preach Communism. Hewlett Johnson was refused permission to cross the United States.

The Express finds this a very pleasant contrast because it shows that Britain is leading the way in tolerance.

It seems to me that the Express puts into words a very dangerous fallacy.

No one quarrels with the right of Robeson and Johnson to be Communists.

But surely the mere fact of being a Communist and the purveying of Communist falsehoods are two entirely different things.

There is nothing wrong with a man believing that the democratic form of government should be destroyed by force. There is very much wrong with a man actually attempting to destroy the democratic form of government by force.

And yet that is exactly what Johnson and Robeson are trying to do. They are attempting to poison the minds of young persons who are not sufficiently mature to know better and to win their allegiance to a foreign power.

It's Only Compromise

The "tolerance" of which the Daily Express speaks is not true tolerance at all. It is compromise.

It represents the point of view which endeavors to find a middle ground between Communism and democracy in which everybody will be happy.

There is no such middle ground. You can no more mix Communism and democracy than you can mix oil and water. The two are completely opposed to each other.

Such compromise is appeasement.

It is a partial surrender of convictions in the hope of avoiding conflict.

And you see this gross misconception of tolerance in every aspect of human life today.

Parents appease their children by giving in to them so that there will be fewer scenes in family life.

The result is that the children are spoiled and family life is disrupted.

This false tolerance, this appeasement, is everywhere.

Everywhere there is a general surrendering of basic beliefs in the vain hope of making the world run more smoothly.

As a result, basic beliefs are beginning to disappear.

The modern fetish of so-called "tolerance" has given away so much in the way of conviction that many people don't believe in anything very much.

It is, perhaps, the greatest evil of the age.

An idea that is not worth fighting for is not worth having.

And when you try to mix two opposing ideas, you get just exactly nothing at all.

Smiles

The fellow had just got back from Hollywood. He had been dazzled by the display of glamor and bigness in the movie colony.

"Everything is done on a tremendous scale," he related to friends. "I attended dinner at a movie producer's home one evening and instead of using finger bowls at the end of the meal, all the guests took showers!"

THE QUESTION: What do you think is the ideal way to cool off in 85 above weather?

A. RIVERS S. OSTROVSKY G. ERICKSON G. FOWLER H. ERWIN VAN DUSEN

ANNE RIVERS, 10425-95 street, clerk: I think that I'd like to get all dressed up in beach clothes and visit the beach, Alberta in particular. Here I could just laze about and forget everything, including the heat.

SYD OSTROVSKY, 10020-102 avenue, manager: Jump in a car and head for the closest lake where I might do a little fishing. If I couldn't do that, I think crawling into a nice cold cooler would be nice, if possible.

GWEN ERICKSON, 10656-95 street, usherette: I think that going to a lake, any old lake, would be nice providing I could swim, fish, and get a nice tan.

G. H. FOWLER, 10446-76 avenue, manager: Why does anyone want to cool off? I think it's wonderful, and as far as I'm concerned it never gets too hot.

HAZEL ERWIN, 11943-102 street, clerk: I would do what most other people wish that they could do on hot days, go to their favorite lake. I know if I had a car, a few of the girl friends to come with me, that's exactly where I would be right now.

HARVEY VAN DUSEN, 7206-113 avenue, salesman: Go fishing. Get in a nice big sailboat on a beautiful calm cool lake and just fish. As for the number of fish I catch, well who cares? It would be nice to get away from the hot and noisy city for a little while.

Britain Aids Flood, Fire Areas Here

OTTAWA, June 15.—(BUP)—Britain has undertaken to supply 500 sets of carpenters' tools to aid in rebuilding firetorn Rimouski and Cabano, Que.

The British information office here announced a gift of $308,000 for relief supplies for disaster victims in Canada, including those of Rimouski, Cabano, and flood-swept southern Manitoba.

An official of the high commissioners office visited Rimouski and Cabano, and discussed with the mayors of these two towns the supplies most urgently needed by the homeless, the information office said.

IMMEDIATE NEED

It added that the immediate need was found to be for carpenters' tools to aid in building new homes."

The first consignment of 80 sets of tools arrived by plane in Montreal yesterday.

Two more were to be sent later this week. Each set comprised 51 tools, especially packaged for air shipment. A further 360 sets will be sent to Rimouski and Cabano this week by sea.

ASK OTHER ARTICLES

The information office said the mayors of Rimouski and Cabano also asked for bedding, towelling, clothing, crockery and cutlery.

It was hoped to send the bulk of these supplies from England aboard the liner Empress of Scotland. She was sailing for Quebec city about June 19.

Iraq Caves Hold First Man Relics

Ice Ager May Have Lived 20,000 Years Before Stone Age

By Musa Habib

BAGHDAD, June 15.—(AP)—Archaeologists have discovered in Iraq mountain caves relics of what may be the first man. They estimate he lived 20,000 years before the Stone Age.

The annual report of the Iraq department of antiquities has just revealed the discoveries of a United States expedition, led by Dr. Henry Field of Harvard University.

The expedition worked in "immensely dark" caves crammed with "rough windings and formidable stalactities and stalagmites." The caves were in the Baradost mountains, north of Kurkuk, in north central Iraq.

The report said there were "findings on the first man of the fifth millennium" before Christ (5,000-4,000 BC). These are similar to those uncovered at the scattered Hills of Plains between Kurkuk and Mosul (farther north), indicating that one similar people lived in the mountains and plains of Iraq at that remote time. It was a period when man sought shelter from the cold in caves (the Fourth Ice Age).

TWO OTHER FINDS

The antiquities department also disclosed discoveries of two other expeditions, one American and one British. All three expeditions have halted excavations for the summer.

A joint expedition of the University of Chicago and the University of Pennsylvania worked at the sacred Sumerian town of Nippur, north of Baghdad. A British School of Archaeology expedition investigated the oldest known Assyrian capital, Calah, east of Mosul.

During six months the former group excavated a collection of temples surrounding Nippur. Six temples built one atop the other during different ages were found at one place. They go back from the Acadian period to the final reign of the Assyrians over Babylon, from 2,500 to 600 BC.

The British expedition concentrated on the palace of Ashur Naser Pall III, some finds dating to the first millennium, BC. They found relics of "great material and scientific value."

The expedition also found a 3,000-year-old observatory.

50 Guerrillas Seize Town

HARTLEY, Ia., June 15—(UP)—Hartley's 1,500 residents returned to their normal cornbelt life today after throwing off "Communist guerrillas" who ruled the town for 24 hours.

The day under "Soviet rule" was climaxed last night by an Americanism rally, at which 1,000 persons dedicated themselves to democracy. The principal speaker was James F. Green, of Omaha, Neb., national chairman of the American Legion's Americanism committee.

Heavy rains earlier failed to spoil the demonstration intended to give Hartley citizens a first-hand experience of life under Communism.

The day's activities began when 50 guerrillas" invaded the town. Because of the rain, they waited 20 minutes before arresting Mayor W. R. (Red) Wagner and other town leaders. The rain also prompted the "guerrillas" to confine their prisoners in city hall instead of an outdoor prison camp.

MARJORIE MAIN'S prize-winning slogan in Universal-International's new comedy hit "Ma and Pa Kettle Go to New York," takes popular star to New York in company with Pa Kettle, Percy Kilbride. Opening Thursday at Rialto Theatre, picture also features Reg Randall and Richard Long.

Ma, Pa Go To Town In Big Film Way At Rialto

Ma and Pa Kettle really do go to town in Universal-International's latest "Ma and Pa Kettle Go to Town," which opens Thursday at the Rialto Theatre.

The new Kettle film has virtually the same cast as the first, co-starring Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, with Meg Randall and Richard Long providing the romantic interest and fourteen younger Kettles popping in and out of scenes.

In this picture Ma and Pa win a free trip to New York in a prize slogan for a soft drink company. A bank robber seeks refuge in the old Kettle shack and decides to serve as a baby-sitter for the children while the elderly couple is away.

WHERE FUN BEGINS

This is where the fun begins and doesn't cease until the film is over, to provoke one of the hottest debates of the current session. Opposition members have bitterly attacked the administration in recent weeks for waiting until now to tighten security regulations.

The new bill was expected to provide penalties for Canadians who left the country and violated the Official Secrets Act.

The chase for a black bag containing a fortune in stolen money, which unwittingly Pa has decided to return to New York for delivery to a pal of the bank robber, has not yet been matched on the screen for its socking suspense comedy.

Picture was produced by Leonard Goldstein and directed by Charles Lamont, also responsible for the first Kettle movie.

Gov't Seeks Bill Support

OTTAWA, June 15.—(BUP)—Parliament soon will be asked to approve the federal government's renewed efforts to stamp out Communist spy activities.

The government gave notice yesterday it would seek approval of legislation to amend to the Official Secrets Act under which members of the 1945 Soviet spy ring were convicted and jailed.

Introduction of the bill in the House of Commons was expected to provoke one of the hottest debates of the current session. Opposition members have bitterly attacked the administration in recent weeks for waiting until now to tighten security regulations.

The new bill was expected to provide penalties for Canadians who left the country and violated the Official Secrets Act.

Briton Stands For German Unity

BERLIN, June 15 — (AP) — Sir Brian Robertson, retiring British high commissioner in Germany, declared yesterday that peace in Europe will not be secure until divided Germany is unified.

He said Germany cannot be neutral in a divided world and must be "integrated into the community of democratic nations of the West."

Stornoway Lewis Link Restored

STORNOWAY, Lewis, Outer Hebrides, June 15 — (Reuters) — The end of a four-day dock strike here yesterday restored the lifeline between this tweed-weaving island off the northwest coast of Scotland and the mainland. Food supplies for the island's 28,000 people had been threatened because of the strike, affecting the island's only port.

Dockers, who had refused to handle cargoes because they want more pay, decided yesterday to submit their claim to arbitration.

VATICAN CITY, June 15—(Reuters) — Vatican authorities today said the Roman Catholic holy year has brought the Vatican museum more than 300,000 visitors.

Anne Comes Out For Boys' Clubs

Makes Secret Aid Public When Hysteria Cuts Off Funds

By Virginia Macpherson
Exclusive to the Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, June 15.—(UP)—Ann Sheridan, who's been secretly sponsoring a "Skid Row" boys club since 1947, came out in the open yesterday to fight Los Angeles' current "rat pack" hysteria.

"Have to," the beauteous redhead said. "We're broke. All this news about 'teen-age attacks has chopped off our donations.

"Nobody wants to give money to boys they think are sneaking up on people in the dark."

A wave of 'teen-aged gang terrorism has been responsible recently for a series of robberies and beatings, characterized by the newspapers as "rat pack" attacks.

For three years Annie's been shelling out money, food, television sets, clothes, and jobs to Mickey Finn's youth clubs. Finn, a handsome 27-year-old policeman, has a local "Boys Town" set-up in the heart of downtown Skid Row.

SHE DELIVERS

"And the kids are crazy about her," he said. "They know she really cares about 'em. We've had other movie stars down there. They make big promises—but that's the last we ever hear of 'em."

Most of Finn's contributions have been dribbling in from business men and civic groups who think it's a good idea to keep underprivileged kids out of tangles with the law.

"But the rat packs cut those off—but good," Finn sighed. "Now we've got nobody but Annie."

She and Finn round up kids from the town's toughest districts for club meetings on the top floor of an old business building.

"When we first started we had nothin'," Finn said. "Then Annie heard about it. She said she'd like to come down. I didn't pay any attention to that. I'd heard it from those movie stars before.

IN SKIRT AND SWEATER

"But darned if she doesn't show up. Not in mink and satin like those others. She had on a skirt and sweater.

"Then she started talking to the kids . . . in their own language. Before long they were telling her stuff they'd never even told me."

For three years Annie kept her checkbook open—and her pretty mouth shut. Press agents had strict orders to do likewise about the Finn club.

"But I finally convinced her she had to talk about it," Finn said. "The boys need the donations her name would bring in."

HORSES DISCOVERED AT ASCOT

ASCOT, Berkshire, Eng., June 15.—(Reuters)—It rained so heavily here yesterday that many people were reluctantly forced to look at the horses.

There was little else to see on the second day of this traditional English summer fashion event, which is incidentally a race meeting. Only a few women dared to flaunt cartwheel summer hats, and pretty dresses were hidden beneath raincoats.

In the Royal enclosure, the Queen wore a grey coat and hat. Princess Elizabeth had a black coat over her green-patterned dress.

Princess Margaret sported a striking cavalry-style cloak in a vivid cyclamen color.

Jamaican Buses Running Again

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 15—(CP)—Buses resumed service in this city of 250,000 yesterday for the first time in three days following settlement of a strike by gasoline delivery men.

Shell Oil Company granted increases of from seven to 10 per cent to 17 men who now earn £6 ($17.40) weekly.

EASTBOURNE, England, June 15 — (Reuters) — The National Association of Local Government Officers, representing nearly 200,000 employes, voted yesterday to throw over its wage-freeze policy and press for increases.

Homer Cook Still Hunted

MUNICH, Germany, June 15 — (UP) — Hundreds of police and baying bloodhounds pressed a manhunt today for Homer Cook, 27-year-old Oklahoma badman, but American authorities admitted they were without a single clue to his whereabouts.

They said they thought the powerfully-built desperado, who fled from the Dachau prison last night, had eluded them and was no longer in the Dachau area. It was Cook's third jailbreak in two months.

"We just don't know where he's gone," they said.

READY TO SHOOT

"If I see Cook I'll shoot," one soldier said. "All the other guys feel the same way."

Armed posses also hunted through Munich's sewers and other dark underground passages for the fugitive.

Union Condemns Use Of Veterans

BLACKPOOL, Lancashire, Eng., June 15 — (Reuters) — The National committee of the powerful British Amalgamated Engineering Union, by 27 votes to 25, yesterday condemned the use of service men to break official industrial disputes.

The union is polling its members on whether a wage dispute should be submitted to arbitration or get strike action.

Inside Hollywood

By Jim Bacon
(For Vacationing Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Three months ago the movies wanted Alan Young in only one role—that of a paying fan.

"I couldn't even get arrested in a studio then," said the Vancouver comedian.

Today almost every studio in town has bid for him. And with the aplomb of a beauty contest judge he has just chosen Universal-International. That studio may not only want to star him in a movie but also wants him—and his two writers—to create the story.

Why the sudden change of the Hollywood heart?

On March 14th, "The Alan Young Show" was first seen on the more than 500,000 television screens here. Some of those screens are in movie producers' homes.

On March 14, Hollywood "discovered" Alan Young.

SAME ALAN

The discovery, of course, was the same Alan Young who had starred on his own radio network comedy show both here and in Canada.

It was the same Alan Young who was under contract at 20th Century-Fox studio for three years until they dropped him. Remember him in "Margie" and as Clifton Webb's sophomore roommate in Mr. Belvedere Goes to College"?

The television Alan Young is a comedian the radio and movie Alan Young didn't know existed. His natural gift for pantomime, lost in radio except to studio audiences, is magnificently evident in television. His feeling for mimicry and situation comedy are suggestive of Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd, although his style is strictly his own.

What does his family in Vancouver think of his success?

"I had to learn to play the bagpipes for a recent sketch. My father is staunchly Scottish. I came across from Edinburgh myself wearing kilts when I was six. Well, I called up dad to tell him I was working. He didn't say much until I played the bagpipes over the phone. I heard a proud sigh, and then he said, 'Lad, ye played the pipes!'"

This Desertion West To East

LONDON, June 15 — (Reuters) — The Soviet-controlled Berlin radio last night broadcast an interview with John Peet, former Reuters correspondent in Berlin, who on Monday "sought asylum" in Communist East Germany.

Peet appealed to electors in the Rhineland - Westphalia elections next Sunday to vote for candidates "who have proved that they are for peace."

MRS. SNELL 'HOT'

Dr. L.C. Watson Royal's Best

Any year now, Dr. L. C. Watson will wake up to discover that he has been barred from further participation in the annual golf outings staged by the Royal Curling club members.

Yesterday, for the second successive year, and the third in the last four, Dr. Watson paced the west-end curlers, firing an excellent 82 over the Highlands course to win low gross honors.

Dr. Watson showed no preference where the two nines were concerned, going out in 41 and coming back to the clubhouse in the same number of strokes.

Upwards of 35 toured the Ada boulevard layout, where Henry Martell is professional and E. E. (Pem) Wood the longtime secretary-manager. In the evening total of 30 sat down to a tasty dinner, courtesy of the club concessionaire.

Other prize winners included Dr. M. M. Dunsworth (low net), Johnny Glasgow (low gross 1st nine), Cal Keys (low gross 2nd nine) and G. Lupul (most honest golfer).

Marvin (Squib) Williamson was chairman in charge of arrangements. Royal club president "Bunny" Gregg took over once the dinner was underway. He made the presentation of awards to Dr. Watson and the others.

City titlist Mrs. Allen Snell turned in the top performance when the Mayfair ladies held the qualifying round of their annual tournament Tuesday.

Mrs. Snell, who is likewise Mayfair champion, fired an 87 to easily cop the honors. She required 47 strokes through the first nine, but once around the turn got real hot (it was that kind of a day) and tacked on a smart 40 to go with it.

Mrs. Lois Sutherland earned runner-up laurels with 91.

Total of 47 cards was turned in, quite a number of the fair contestants bowing out before the finish, due to the excessive heat.

Scores of 109 and under qualified for the championship flight.

★ ★ ★

It will be either Frank Willey and Doug Silverberg, Red Deer, or Buddy Loftus-Jim Harper, Highlands club, against the Martell brothers in Sunday's Eaton cup challenge match.

"Pem" Wood is awaiting word from the Red Deer pair as to whether or not they'll make the trip in for a shot at lifting the silverware from Henry and Burns Martell, long-time holders.

Willey, formerly assistant to Jack Cuthbert, Calgary Golf and Country club, and the youthful Silverberg are next in line as challengers.

Should the Red Deer shotmakers elect to pass this time, then Loftus and Harper are all set to take over.

Chip shots to the green: There's talk that a number of clubs in central Alberta will organize shortly along the lines of the inter-club program followed here in Edmonton.

Camrose Tourney Honors To Sceptre Ball Squad

By Dick Beddoes
Bulletin Staff Writer

CAMROSE, June 15 — When the chips are down, tournament baseball players say, class will tell. And here yesterday by that yardstick, a bunch of ball hawks from Sceptre, Saskatchewan, were classy.

They won the Camrose baseball tournament first prize of $2,000 before a crowd of 4,500, blanking Kamloops Elks 2-0 in a fine exhibition of precision baseball.

Sceptre got hotter than a day in July yesterday, polishing off Indian Head 2-0 and Bowden 8-5 before qualifying for a crack at the barnstorming Elks. Kamloops socked it to Alaskan Command 6-4 and vanquished Edmonton Royals 10-3 on their way to the final.

Bert (Tex) Olmstead, handsome right-hander, was immense in the final game, for Sceptre. With the wind whistling out of the north and churning up the top-soil, the Chicago Black Hawk hockey player struck out five and rationed four hits.

★ ★ ★

For six innings the finalists were closer than your next breath. Olmstead locking with 'lefty' Dale Hansan in a mound struggle.

But as in all games, there had to come a time when one forged ahead. Sceptre accomplished this in the seventh, long George Mahaffy singling to right, and eventually scoring from third base on 'Rhiny' Lutche's timely clout.

And that one run was all Olmstead required.

He retired the Elk's swatsmiths in order during the last three frames. His mates scored again in the ninth, Eddie Barnado doubling to right advancing to third on Jimmy Shields' scratch single and crossing the plate following Dave Shaw's ground ball to first.

Thus Sceptre pocketed $2,000 iron men. Kamloops received $1,000, and Edmonton and Bowden shared $800 on a 50-50 basis.

★ ★ ★

Sceptre used a lithe colored lefthander in their second round game with the all-Negro nine from Indian Head. His name was Hal Price, a cute customer from St. Paul, Minnesota, who was the outstanding star in the two-day show.

Against highly-regarded Indian Head, Price yielded but two hits, both of them singles, and allowed only three men to reach first. The young Negro was well-handled by catcher Lambert Serpa, an aging snubber who has hung his hat in the California State league, among others.

Price struck out eight, and had a no-hitter until Henry Cameron looped a single to left in the seventh. Pinch-hitter Jimmy Morrow tagged him for another one-bagger in the ninth. But Price was never behind, fogging it in there with brilliant spot control.

Edmonton's entry edged Clive 3-2 to qualify for a share of the booty, and Bowden cuffed Stettler to grab a slice of dough.

And as the wind blew itself out last night the quote of the day was uttered by Pete Trautman, retired New Norway farmer who did a splendid job landscaping the diamonds. Said he: "A lot of folks stayed away from some of the best baseball games played in Alberta this season."

EAC Players Receive One-Game Suspension

Monday night's riotous junior baseball game between EAC and Canadians resulted in a one-game suspension of two EAC players, Russ Kowalchuk and Walt Keckalo, league president Dalton Chute announced last night.

A third player, Norm Kimball, who was thrown out of Monday's game, did not receive a suspension.

Kowalchuk was not in uniform last night as league-leading CNR drubbed a much-improved EAC team 6-1 at Clarke Stadium and therefore has served his sentence. Keckalo will remain on the sidelines for the next EAC game.

In last night's contest, Lou Hiatt's CNR juniors won their seventh straight league tilt behind the steady four-hit pitching of right-hander Howie Martin.

Trainmen were only able to collect five bingles off EAC hurlers, but capitalized on seven walks doled out by starting chucker Rae Enright.

Catcher Willy McDermid notched the winners' final run with his sixth inning blast to the boundary.

Ed Tanner, former utility player with Dodgers of the Big Four league, made his appearance in CNR uniform. Tanner struck out twice in as many trips to the plate.

Made Over Buffs Clip Puritys 13-6

CALGARY, June 15 — A seven-man player deal between Calgary Buffaloes and Purity 99'ers completed yesterday afternoon, paid off with a bang for Buffs a few hours later as they captured a wind-swept evening tussle from the Puritans by a score of 13-6.

The deal brought right-fielder Bernie Weinstein, shortstop Clyde Wheeler and second-sacker Chet Vacey to Buffaloes, in exchange for first-baseman Willie Simms and three players as yet unnamed.

The three new Bison additions were in the line-up last night, although Weinstein played only half an inning.

Simms, who has performed brilliantly at first base for Buffaloes since arriving in the city 10 days ago, stepped into a Purity uniform at the same time, and went out to right field for Walt Gully's crew.

In piling up their big margin of victory last night, Buffs found themselves well-rewarded. Vacey and Wheeler came up with some sensational infielding that contributed in large measure to the win. In addition, Vacey punched out a three-run homer in the eighth that put things on ice.

Victory increased Buffs' lead over the cellar-dwelling Puritans to 2½ games, and brought them to within 3½ games of the second-place Edmonton Eskimos.

Anavets Dumped By Pontiacs, 9-3

Price-Andrews' Pontiacs bunched seven of their nine hits in two innings for seven runs, to defeat Art Delmar's Anavets 9-3 at Kingsway last night in a Senior Men's league clash.

In the opener, pert Marg Royce's double with the bases loaded, paced Walk-Rite senior ladies' squad to a 5-1 triumph over South Side.

Ability to combine all their hits—plus Anavet errors—at the right time, enabled Pontiacs to emerge victors.

The Nin Gray-coached Motormen jumped into a 2-0 lead in the second frame and never looked back. Pontiac catcher Bob Nault, who later scored on an infield out, drove in Ken Johannson with the first run, slugging a towering triple to right.

Anavets' Phil Myers blooped a double into centre and scored on a sacrifice and an error in the third frame. But after Gray's charges exploded for a trio of marker's in the fourth, Anavets were never in contention.

In the opener last night, Walk-Rite bats were well-muffled by Joan Steele for the first three stanzas but in the fourth, with two out, singles by Minnie Wilson, Isobel Whitley and a walk loaded the bases to set the stage for Royce's three-run double.

Paced by the stickwork of shortstop Len Gray, Scona Shops defeated Fire Department 9-6 at South Side Athletic grounds in a regular South Side Intermediate Men's Football league game.

Gray batted at a two-for-three clip, including a double to left field, to spark the Shopmen.

Big Doings In Wichita Falls

It was Dec. 21, 1927. And in at least one home in Wichita Falls, Texas, there was much rejoicing and not a little bragging being done by the man of the house.

"It's a boy . . . a cute little feller," he kept repeating.

When it came time to select a name for this latest arrival into the Berry family, attention was drawn to the recent feat of one Charles A. Lindbergh. Lindbergh—or 'Lindy' as he came to be known to hundreds of thousands in the next while—had crossed the Atlantic, non-stop, in an old crate of a plane.

★ ★ ★ ★

"We'll call him Lindy," the proud parents made their decision.

★ ★ ★ ★

Yesterday—close to 23 years later and as many hundred miles distant from Wichita Falls—I met Lindy Berry for the first time.

And the ace gridder from Texas Christian 'U', an acknowledged battler at all times on the football field, was fighting another kind of fight as I uncovered him there on the third fairway at Municipal Golf course.

★ ★

Berry was fighting a slice, a king-size slice, one that caused him to pour the ball deep into the woods on his third shot.

"Yu'all see that ball?" he asked, southern accent and all, of a couple of kids who were beating the underbrush nearby in sarch of just such errant rubber as his had proven to be.

The kids hadn't seen hide nor core-centre of the ball . . . they said. Personally I thought they were withholding valuable evidence. It didn't seem to me they were telling everything they knew.

★ ★ ★ ★

So Lindy Berry poked around in the trees for a minute or two, even as you and I, before dropping another ball on the fairway and heading west again in search of the third green.

In the next hour or so I learned quite a lot about him. And I learned nearly as much about his companion, hefty Doug Brightwell, who played with Regina Roughriders last season.

About the first thing Berry said, after introductions had been made, was "I sure like Edmonton." Granted, it might have been the old malarkey. But he made it sound like it was from the heart.

Another thing. Here was this good-looking young man, who has had gallons of 'ink' over the past four seasons while southern sportswriters did their best to record his amazing feats on football grids in Dallas, Fort Worth and many more centres.

But he wasn't trying to fool any body that golf, whatever about football, was an open book in his life.

"Ah jes' took this game up 'bout month ago," he explained away his difficulties. "Sure like it, too, even if I can't play much."

And he went right on having fun . . . across the gully at the fourth, alongside the new nine at the fifth, and so gradually back to the clubhouse.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Why did ah decide t'come up heah?" he repeated a question as we strode down the sixth fairway." Because ah think there's an opportunity here foah me. It wasn't the money. Had a bigger offer from San Francisco Forty-Niners.

"Besides," and he glanced at Brightwell, over on the other side of the fairway," Doug told me he liked everything about it up heah."

Berry has been 'accused' of looking like Gregory Peck . . . and even Tyrone Power. Personally I thought he looked like a lot of athlete as he whacked a five-iron to the green at the seventh (the slice wasn't 'working' just then).

★ ★ ★ ★

One hundred and eighty pounds of solid man ("I'll slim down some") nicely distributed on a five-eleven frame. Hero of many a football game and idol of countless thousands of southern kids.

★ ★ ★ ★

But you'd never guess that he even suspected, as he kibitzed easily with Brightwell, or anyone else within range.

As we made it to the clubhouse, finally, Eskimo coach Annis Stukus came out to meet us. "Hi ya, coach," Berry greeted him. Whereupon they promptly went into a huddle . . . a football huddle.

And when I left, after another half hour or so, Berry was still asking questions such as: "Yu'all got a running pass? Yu'all got any trap plays?"

VERNON RETURNS TO SENATORS

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP) — Mickey Vernon, veteran Cleveland first baseman, returned yesterday to Washington Senators for a second term in a trade which sent Dick Weik, a young, promising but currently wild speedball hurler, to the Indians.

Vernon, usually a good fielder, is 32

While he paced the American League hitters in 1946 with a .353 average, he has failed to snow much promise since.

Eddy Looks For 2 Wins

"Irish Bill" Eddy, fighting man from Los Angeles, was back in town last night, but in a new role.

Eddy, a colorful mitt-swinger who made two or three appearances here early in the year, returned in the role of manager. He had in tow a pair of promising battlers from Los Angeles, Tello Cruz and Aurielo Ramirez.

Cruz tackles Al Marotti on promoter Jack Berry's fight card at the Pavilion tomorrow night. This will be the headline attraction.

Ramirez is scheduled to do battle with Benny Geary in the semi-wind-up.

"Cruz and Ramirez are good boys. I expect both to turn in wins," Eddy said.

Both Cruz and Ramirez will work out tonight, 7:00 o'clock, at the gym-under-the-Gem, Jasper Ave.

BERRY AND PAL

Texans Arrive To Join Esks

Fortunes of coach Annis Stukus' grid Eskimos kited sharply upwards yesterday with the arrival from Texas of quarterback Lindy Berry and centre Doug Brightwell.

Both Berry and Brightwell established outstanding records while playing with Texas Christian 'U' in the strong Southwest Conference. Rice Baylor and Southern Methodist are other colleges in the Conference.

BRIGHTWELL KNOWN HERE

Brightwell is well known in these parts by virtue of having spent the 1949 Western Conference season with coach Fred (General) Grant's Regina Roughriders. He was chosen centre on the second team in the all-star balloting.

Berry, who reached his peak as a college star last fall, comes heralded as one of the finest backs ever turned out of the Southwest Conference.

He was a bright star in the annual east-west Shrine Bowl game at San Francisco New Year's Day. On hand in a scouting role were Stukus and Al Anderson, manager of the Eskimos.

Right off they 'fell in love' with Berry, Negotiations followed, resulting in the good looking Texan inking an Esk form, despite overtures from the pros back home.

NARRELL, BAILEY TOO

At the same time Stukus got a yen to sign Don Narrell and Bailey, teammates of Berry at Texas Christian. As a result these boys will be along later in the month from their homes on the other side of the line.

Manager Anderson also announced yesterday that big Rollin Prather, outstanding end from Kansas State 'U', who has been in the city for several days 'looking things over', signed a Canadian Rugby Union card with Esks before returning to his home at Wichita, Kansas.

"I feel quite certain Prather will return to line up with us,' Anderson said optimistically.

Brissie in Form as A's Hand Tigers 8-2 Defeat

NEW YORK, June 15—(CP)—Philadelphia Athletics ended a seven-game losing streak yesterday when they trounced Detroit Tigers 8-2 in an American league fixture.

The setback did not cost Tigers anything in their first-place American league duel with New York Yankees, who dropped their second straight decision to Chicago White Sox 3-2 and still remained a half game behind the Detroit club.

Left-hander Lou Brissie turned in a six-hit pitching job for Athletics. No Tiger got more than one hit.

Joe Page failed for the second straight day as Dave Philley greeted the ace reliefer with a three-run homer in the last of the ninth to give Chicago the nod over Yankees.

Cleveland defeated Boston 7-3, in a game featured by five homers. Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Lou Boudreau hit four-baggers for the Indians. Vern Stephens and Ted Williams hit round-trippers for the losing Red Sox.

The lone National league game played saw Max Lanier hold Philadelphia Phillies to six hits as St. Louis Cards won their seventh straight game by a 4-2 count.

In an American league nighter, Washington Senators turned on the St. Louis Browns and won the ball game 4-3 with a four-hit pitching performance by Chico Marrero.

Citation 'Gets' 128

ALBANY, California, June 15—Handicapper Norris Royden has assigned Calumet Farm's leading money winner Citation top weight of 128 pounds for Saturday's 40-ers handicap.

Next on the weight scale for this Golden Gate Fields feature is the Irish bred Noor with 123 pounds. Noor holds two upset wins over Citation.

BRANDON BALL CLUB LOSES 'OWN' TOURNEY

BRANDON, June 15. — (CP) — Winnipeg Buffaloes defeated Brandon Greys 8-1 here last night to win the final game of the $1,400 baseball tournament staged before 3,000 fans. Both teams are members of the Manitoba-Dakota baseball league.

Buffaloes gained the final bracket by defeating Regina Caps 6-2 and Brandon went into the playoff by disposing of the touring Muskogee Cardinals 5-1.

Taylor Smith, speedball artist for Buffs, held Brandon to four hits. His mates pounded three Brandon hurlers for 11.

English 'Stars In 4-2 Triumph

TORONTO, June 15 — (CP) — An all time record of 24,809 for sports in Canada, apart from horse racing, saw the English Internationals defeat Manchester United 4-2 in an exhibition soccer game last night.

It was a "prestige" game for both clubs and the spectators were kept in an almost continual uproar.

The United, English first division team, led 2-1 at half time on goals by centre-forward Jack Rowley, at the 10-minute mark, and outside left Charlie Mitten, with 12 minutes of the half to play.

Jimmy Hagan, inside left with Sheffield United, opened the scoring for the Internationals five minutes afted the start of the game.

In the second half Frank Bowyer, inside right from Stoke City, evened the count for the Internationals.

Johnny Hancocks, outside left with Wolverhampton Wanderers, crashed through the entire Manchester team to make it 3-2 and he duplicated the feat with only six minutes remaining.

Chicago Post To Goodfellow

CHICAGO, June 15—(AP)—Ebenezer (Ebbie) Goodfellow yesterday signed a three-year contract to coach Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey league.

The new Hawk pilot, who managed St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey league for the last two years, succeeds Charlie Conacher, who resigned to devote his time to business affairs in Toronto.

Goodfellow, 44, is a native of Ottawa. He was a star in the NHL for 14 years, playing centre and defense for Detroit Red Wings.

He won the most valuable player trophy in 1939-40 and was twice chosen for All-Star honors. Later he served as assistant to Jack Adams, manager of the Red Wings.

Goodfellow takes over a difficult assignment with the Hawks, since the team finished in last place three out of the last four years.

He brought St. Louis from last place to the championship of the western division of the American league by the end of the 1948-49 season.

Last season his St. Louis team finished third in the league, but lost out in the playoffs to Indianapolis, which went on to capture the post-season championship.

Puck Heads To Convene

VANCOUVER, June 15.—A Toronto meeting July 22 may decide whether Canada's five high-priced senior hockey leagues stay within the pale of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The CAHA will meet with representatives from the five—Western Canada, Ontario Association, Quebec, Maritime and Cape Breton—to iron out details of the contract clause introduced to senior hockey during the annual meeting at Banff.

The contract system proposed by the CAHA is that body's answer to a "new deal" requested by these leagues. Their specific complaint was that under the old system players were costly to obtain and maintain, yet they had no permanent hold on them.

The CAHA will insist on a termination clause in the contract system. The leagues probably will insist on a contract giving their teams protection in holding players from one season to another.

Grimston, newly elected president, said the CAHA will not retreat from its stand on the termination clause. If the five senior leagues stand pat on their demand, it can only mean severance from jurisdiction of the CAHA, he said.

Record Entry In Sail Race

By TOM HORGAN

NEWPORT, R.I., June 15.—(AP)—Stiff international competition loomed last night as a record fleet of small, but sturdy sailing yachts, assembled for Sunday's start of the 177th 635-mile race from Newport to Bermuda.

Names of 59 schooners, yawls, ketches, sloops and cutters are on the entry list, compared with the previous record of 44 set in 1936.

Included are six owned by the Royal Navy's Yacht club. Special rivals are six craft sailed by midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy.

The Cruising Club of America has divided the contestants into three divisions, getting away at 15-minute intervals.

Easily the blue ribbon salt-water event of the year, since the passing of the America's cup races, the long dash to Bermuda was inaugurated in 1906.

Best time for the course—two days, 23 hours, 35 minutes—was set in 1932 by the 61-foot cutter Highland Light, then privately owned, but now a Naval Academy entry.

Wild Scenes At Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 15—Rochester Red Wings snapped a four-game Jersey City winning streak by beating the Giants 15-8 here last night, after Jersey captured the twilight opener 9-4.

Second game was marked by a free-for-all which lasted for several minutes.

Players from both sides paired off and staged a rousing brawl before police restored order. Wing outfielder Larry Claffone, who tangled with Jersey pitcher Roger Bowman to start the action, was ejected from the game.

The first-swinging took place at the finish of the third inning. Claffone was "dusted" by Bowman, and when Claffone rolled out, he veered off to the pitcher's box instead of running out the ball, and the two pounded each other freely.

Players and managers from both squads poured out and the riotous action lasted until a cordon of police managed to separate the battlers.

Cricketers In Sunday Tilt

Second game of the two-game Edmonton-Calgary cricket series for the Weaver Memorial trophy will be played at the Golf links pitch here Sunday, starting at 10:30 a.m.

Edmonton captured the first contest, played at Calgary last month.

Following are the line-ups for Sunday's tilt:

Calgary—G. Pain (capt.), P. Gunyon, P. Snell, E. Murphy, E. Ellaby, R. Douglas, J. Taylor, W. Webb, E. Howes, W. Redfield, and G. Gerrard.

Edmonton — Jack Edwards (capt), Bill Drever, Maurice Grant, Ken Fraser, R. Bonnells, J. L. Weaver, B. Spooner, Eric Diggins, P. J. Cullimore, A. Brown, Ralph Jones. Reserves: G. Muir and K. J. Preston.

Cards Cop Juvenile Tilt

Clegg and Case Cardinals continued their winning ways by whipping EAC 12-7 in a juvenile baseball tilt at Diamond park last night.

It was Cardinal's fifth win without defeat in league play.

After a shaky first inning, Herb Gosche settled down to pitch Cards to their easy triumph.

O.K. Construction walloped Marshall Wells 25-21 at West Kingsway.

Decide Doubles

Bessie McAvoy and Dr. Hal Richard won the mixed doubles event of the Civil Service Tennis club's annual tournament by defeating Alf and Pauline Ingall 8-6, 4-6 and 6-3.

Men's doubles championship went to Johnny Stott and Dr. Richard. Stott and Richard downed Ingall and George Docherty 8-6, 6-3 and 6-1 yesterday.

THROWN by Phalanger at Liverpool jump of Belmont Park steeplechase is rider Charley Harr. It's hard to believe but Harr, who tumbled into maze of horses' legs, got up and walked away unhurt.

OPEN SATURDAY

Stott, Linke No. 1 Net Seeds

It will be Johnny Stott and Evelyn Linke against the field in the singles events when play opens Saturday in the annual City tennis championships.

Tournament secretary Graham Cathro and his aides took time off last night to "screen" the entries (41 in the men's singles, 18 on the other side of the fence), the "seedings" resulting as follows:

Men's singles: 1, Johnny Stott; 2, George McFadzean; 3, Dr. Hal Richard; 4, Harry Kinloch.

Ladies' singles: 1, Evelyn Linke; 2, Nancy Collinge; 3, Irma McManus; 4, Isobel McConnell.

Stott, of course, came by his No. 1 rating "honestly," having won the men's singles last year, and later going on to take the provincial crown.

However, Miss Linke "backed in" to the honor, in a way. Defeated in last year's ladies singles final by Mrs. Pat Timmerman, the young Garneau club flash inherited the No. 1 slot when Mrs. Timmerman elected not to defend her title this year.

Entries are off somewhat from last year's totals for most of the events, according to Cathro.

However, he's optimistic, as are Pauline Ingall, president of the Edmonton District Tennis Association, and other executives that the tournament will be "bang up."

★ ★ ★

Twenty-two entries were received for the men's doubles competition, with last year's champs, Dr. Richard and Stott being seeded at the top.

Ladies' doubles (Barbara and Mar] Forrester seeded No. 1) attracted 16 pairs, while the mixed doubles drew 13 entries, with Andy (Shorts) Purcell and Bessie McAvoy getting top seeding.

Bulletin and Mitchell events also will be contested.

Play opens at three courts, Garneau, Glenora and Civil Service. Headquarters will be located at Garneau.

King Comes Back

Edmonton and District Fastball Association secretary Paul Soderberg announced last night that the King (Ed Feigner) and his court will make their appearance at Kingsway June 29 and 30.

The Kingsmen appeared here last year and performed before record crowds.

Advance Tennis Dates

MONTREAL, June 15—(BUP)—The Canadian Lawn Tennis Association yesterday advanced the date of the first round of Canadian-Australian Davis Cup competition so the winners would have more time to get used to weather in Mexico City.

The second round will be played against winners of a Mexico-Cuba contest scheduled in Mexico City before July 30.

J. M. McAvity, CLTA president, said contests at Mount Royal Tennis club here would start July 14, instead of July 20. He said the winners needed the extra time to become acclimatized to Mexico City's high altitude.

N.S. Legion Rallies For 4-2 Victory

North Side Legion soccer eleven came from behind to nip Anavets 4-2 in a Senior league clash at Clarke Stadium last night. The win gave Martin Collingwood's Legion squad first place as the first half of the schedule closed.

Inside-left Herb Johnson was the individual star of the tilt. Johnson potted the winning goal with about 20 minutes left in the game and minutes later beat Anavet goalie Bob Shore for the "insurance" marker.

Outside-right Denny Birmingham staked Anavets to 1-0 lead. His marker was the lone tally in the first half. Then it was the turn of the other outside, Stan Fielden, to score for Anavets.

Fielden's goal, in the second half, put Anavets ahead 2-0.

Collingwood's charges turned on the pressure and at the 35 minute mark, Dave Peacock out-guessed Shore for Legion's first tally. Ned Robinson, Legion inside-right, tied the game a few minutes later.

Johnson followed with his two markers to give Legion the win. All Legion counters came in a space of 20 minutes as Anavets suffered a defensive lapse.

LINEUPS

Legion — Walker; Skidmore, McIntosh; Campbell, Peacock, Davidson; Moore, Gilling, Robinson, Johnson, Gibson.

Anavets — Shore; J. Birmingham, Laycock; Tyrrell, Keeley, Streathern; D. Birmingham, Wilkie, Larson, Russell, Fielden.

No Travel At Week-End For Big Four Loop Teams

Memo to Sam Irwin, president Big Four Baseball league: "When is the league office going to get back on the beam and release some averages? Season is more than a quarter gone and it's just like the Iron Curtain had come to this part of the world."

It will be Dodgers against Eskimos, at Renfrew Park, Purities against Buffs in Calgary's Stufalo Stadium, in week-end Big Four Baseball league play.

ONE GAME SUNDAY.

Single games will be played tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday as, for the first time in the history of the circuit, there is no travelling over a week-end.

Perhaps it's just as well neither of the Calgary squads has been booked into Renfrew Park this week-end.

Wholesale changes, apparently brought on by the lowly position in the standings of Buffs and Purities ,they're running third and fourth, respectively) have been effected in the rosters of both in the last few days.

It will take a while for the newcomers to be assimilated into the line-ups so that Purityx and Buffs can get rolling.

For that matter only the pace-setting Dodgers seem set in the matter of playing strength, even though pitcher Kemp did join the club last week from Los Angeles.

ESKS HAVE STRENGTHENED

The Esks added a trio of flashy performers lately in the persons of shortstop Bob Lillis, first-sacker George Bradish and pitcher Bob Peterson.

All in all the pennant chase shapes up as likely to produce plenty in the way of fireworks before the curtain comes down in late August. There's only one direction the Calgary teams can move and that's up.

Dodgers, firmly ensconsced in first place, will be hard to dislodge. The Esks have shown signs of approaching their best form.

Yes, it could be an interesting baseball season from here on in.

Sports

Graziano Seems Set

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., June 15.—(AP)—If fighting action and mental attitude mean anything, Rocky Graziano is better prepared today for a title shot than at any other time in the last five years.

The hard rock from New York's east side had five fights from March through May. That represents more ring activity for Rocky than he has had in any year since 1945 when he started his rise to the top.

And his mental outlook is far better than in years with no suspension problems to bother him and not too much finger-pointing at his past escapades.

Graziano still has 13 days to go before he steps into the Polo Grounds ring with middleweight champion Jake Lamotta but he could be ready a week before that if it was necessary.

On Time, Fellas!

All North Side Legion junior soccer players are requested to report to Clarke Stadium Friday night at 6:30 for league game against Canadians.

Chicks Chortle

Home runs by pitcher Joyce Kulak, Kuswell, Turlock and Davies sparked Singers to a 23-7 triumph over Harlem Chicks in a Girls' Baseball league contest at Borden Park last night.

A's Recall Pitcher

DETROIT, June 15—(AP)—Philadelphia Athletics yesterday recalled Ed Burtshey, right-handed pitcher, from Buffalo of International league. In return, Bisons got right-hander Harry Byrd and outfielder Bob Wellman.

Towns Evacuated As B.C. Rivers Reach Flood Stage

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 15 — (BUP) — Residents fled two northern towns today and water spilled into the streets of three other cities as British Columbia rivers rose to the flood stage.

The Skeena river, swirling with a mountain runoff, sent swirling water into the sawmill town of Usk and the railway village of Dorreen, forcing about 130 residents to flee to high ground.

At Terrace, B.C., 16 miles west of Usk, the Skeena was flooding suburban streets and threatening several homes. Police said a few families had fled.

BANKS SANDBAGGED

The rail village of Pacific saw water creeping over the only rail link to the British Columbia north coast today, and Canadian National Railway workmen were sandbagging the banks to prevent a washout.

The Tulameen river splashed over its banks in Princeton, B.C., and surrounded several houses with one or two inches of water.

695-MILE FRASER

The twisting 695-mile Fraser spread steadily over low-lying pastureland in the Fraser Valley and inundated land outside areas protected by dykes near Mission, B.C. The level was 0.5 above the 20 foot flood level mark at Mission today.

"We expect 22 feet by Saturday and the new dikes are going to get a real test," said Dominion Water Resources Board official Douglas McLeod.

"There are no signs of the river slackening and temperatures remain high in the interior."

Churches Tell Of Early Days

CADOMIN, June 15—Recollections of their church being brought by rail from Brule and re-assembled at Mountain Park in 1924 were reported by Mrs. B. Bergman at the 25th anniversary service of the United Church in Canada.

A joint service of the Cadomin, Luscar, Mercoal and Mountain Park churches was held Sunday at Cadomin. Rev. E. Kemp, regular minister, was assisted by M. Hawkins, pastoral minister from Mercoal.

Histories of the four churches were given by members of the congregation, Mrs. M. MacKinnon of Cadomin recalled how, after such work and many difficulties, the Cadomin United Church was erected in 1930. Report from Luscar was given by M. Reed, who told of the struggles of their church and how in 1931 it was built by voluntary labor.

Crown Ends Hearing Against 'Bomb-Plotter'

By Marc E. Thivierge
Special to the Bulletin

QUEBEC CITY, Que., June 15— (BUP)—Crown Prosecutor Noel Dorion today closed the government's preliminary hearing against Genereux Ruest, charged with murder in last September's "bomb plot" air crash.

Judge Achille Pettigrew said he would announce at 10 a.m. tomorrow whether the 51-year-old watchmaker would be committed for trial.

Defence attorney Irenee Simard declined to call any witnesses. The hearing ended after expert witnesses for the crown testified that the crash of the Canadian Pacific C-47 last Sept. 9, killing 23 persons, was caused by a bomb fashioned by Ruest.

Guay, convicted in March, was sentenced to hang June 23, but the date was postponed to Jan. 12, presumably to allow him to testify at Ruest's hearing.

Ruest's sister, Mrs. Marguerite Pitre, 41, who was arrested yesterday on the prosecutor's charge she tried to intimidate witnesses, also testified today.

ADMITTED PURCHASE

She admitted purchasing the dynamite for the bomb, but under the impression it was used to blast tree stumps out of a field.

She also revealed how she took the bomb parcel to the airport for Guay. She had testified during the latter's trial that she did not know what the package contained.

2 BRIDGES WASH OUT ON SASK. HEADWATERS

Flash floods in Rocky Mountain areas last night washed out two bridges on the headwaters of the North Saskatchewan river.

But at Edmonton, civic authorities said there is no indication of the Saskatchewan flooding here

A rise of one foot in the water level of the river at Edmonton was reported during the last 24 hours. The river now stands at 30.4 feet, about six feet above its winter level.

NOT SIGNIFICANT

Waters have risen three and a half feet since June 12. Authorities term the rise "not significant."

Washout of two bridges near the Columbia Ice fields has resulted in closing of the Banff-Jasper highway to all traffic. A mud and rock slide has occurred at mile 22 along the highway linking the two mountain towns.

Creeks are swollen by melting snow in the mountain regions and by torrential rains yesterday and Tuesday, in the districts bordering the west end of the Jasper-Edmonton highway.

MILE SEVEN WASHOUT

Jasper-Edmonton highway is closed due to a washout at Mile Seven, but repairs will be completed by tomorrow and traffic should be resumed.

In Jasper National Park Miette Hot Springs resort is closed. Medicine Lake road in the park is flooded. Another mountain river, near Jasper—the Rocky—is also on the rampage, but is not causing extensive damage.

YOUNG TROUT TRAVEL EAST

JASPER, June 15—In the first shipment of its kind from the Jasper National Park fish hatcheries, 6,700 yearling lake trout left here today for Riding Mountain National Park, Manitoba, to stock the waters of Clear Lake.

Under the supervision of William Cahill, Jasper hatchery superintendent, the fish were placed aboard a special baggage car in 50 large tanks. Through cooperation of CNR, an ice supply will keep water in the tanks at proper temperature. Enroute, the fish were in charge of W. D. Taylor, Ottawa, wildlife service of the resources and development department, and D. Mann, Jasper hatchery assistant.

Jasper Students Raise Flood Fund

JASPER, June 15—Jasper School students of Grades seven and eight recently voted $70, raised by presentation of the operetta "Hansel & Gretel," to Flood Relief.

The smaller children also came up with a donation of $4.50 saved individually by acts of self-denial.

No Settlement Made In Teachers' Dispute

WESTLOCK, June 15—An interview by the Divisional Board with representatives of the Westlock Teachers' Association recently, failed to reach an agreement on salary revision.

The matter is now expected to be discussed before a Board of Conciliation. This marks the first occasion upon which the board and its staff have been unable to reach an agreement.

At the recent Divisional Board meeting, members also discussed problems of bus rates and overcrowding in schools. A revision in the transportation schedule provides for a bonus of $100 a year to all operators who supply a Class A bus and $50 a year for Class B bus.

A request for centralization of Trails End School was received, in a petition from residents of the district and was passed with one dissenting vote.

Owing to the overcrowded condition of the new school erected at Fawcett in 1948, it was decided to alleviate the condition by reconditioning one room of the old school for use next term.

It was also reported that of the seven recipients of Divisional bur-

Maligne Lake Gets Cruiser

JASPER, June 15 — The 36-passenger cruiser "The Maligne" has arrived from Vancouver to operate on Maligne Lake, in passenger service for Fred Brewster's Rocky Mountain Camps.

"The Maligne" is a Cleveland cruiser, propelled by a 90-horse-power converted Chrysler engine.

Maligne Lake, largest glacial-fed body of water in the Canadian Rockies, is considered the most beautiful spot in Jasper National Park. It is easily reached by car and motor launch.

The road from Jasper to Medicine Lake has been greatly improved this year and is in top condition.

'PAGEANT OF THE NORTH'

Bulletin's Billy Rose Needed To Put This Effort Across

Even the Bulletin's Billy Rose was injected into the act.

In fact, advertising man Dave Wood suggested that Billy Rose —or a man of his calibre—should organize it.

"Why not hire a character like Billy Rose to put on a Pageant of the North which would make Edmonton Exhibition a world-wide attraction?" Mr. Wood asked last night's special finance committee meeting.

He suggested such an organizer could tour the north by air, see the way Eskimos and others live there, and then put on a huge Pageant of the North here.

"It might take 15 years to become symbolized, but it would be unique. I can see in two years, visitors going into a refrigerated building at the exhibition to see igloos, Eskimos, huskies and the normal paraphernalia of their existence. Out on the infield, we could have a dog sled obstacle course, where nightly events are run off for substantial cash prizes."

"I do think that from our north, to which we are the gateway, Edmonton Exhibition can become a world-wide attraction—but it needs a man of Billy Rose's calibre," Mr. Wood maintained.

Mayor Sir Parsons had the last word on the suggestion.

"Well, we've never had anything at our exhibition to get elated over since the Carnival of Nations," he said.

FLIGHT FROM New York to Phoenix, Ariz., proved too long haul for "Bossy," prize Guernsey cow en route to join herd of J. J. Revenue Off, Profit Up For City's Five Utilities

In face of lower revenues, the city's five utilities turned in $44,027 more profit for April than in the preceding month.

The April surplus was $163,144, compared with $119,117 in March, according to a statement released today by the city comptroller's department.

Revenues slumped from $935,541 in March to $954,808 in April.

SPENDING DOWN

But expenditures on operation and maintenance dropped even more, from $336,175 to $552,205.

Accumulated surplus so far this year is $615,997, or $196,886 ahead of the same period in 1949.

Surpluses by department for the two months are as follows with March in brackets: Electric light $54,351 ($34,314); Power plant $65,211 ($72,843); Transit system $11,886 ($17,083); Telephone $22,173 ($12,190); Waterworks $8,620 (deficit $17,315).

Police Find Ring Hidden Inside Mouth

A man picked up by police early today with a diamond ring in his mouth told officers he kept it there "to keep it from getting lost."

The man, Rudolph Gravnic of New Westerminster, B.C., was remanded for one week when he appeared in Police Court today on charge of vagrancy.

Police reported they saw Gravnic running up a downtown alley at 3:15 a.m. today while they were investigating a disturbance. He said he had no money and no job, and had been in the city for several days.

Officers said Gravnic appeared to be hiding something in his mouth. They found he had a 10 karat gold ring containing a small diamond.

Safety Drive Comes To End

On closing day of Canada's first province-wide vehicle voluntary inspection campaign, Alberta Safety Council officials estimate 75 per cent of Alberta's vehicles now display the safety sticker.

After two months of voluntary inspection by garages and service stations, more than 150,000 stickers have been issued to every part of the province.

A survey by Edmonton Safety Council last Saturday of 700 vehicles on Edmonton streets, showed 163 per cent with stickers.

OFFICIAL CLOSING

Following the official closing of the voluntary period, RCMP and city police will launch an intensive campaign of vehicles not displaying safety stickers.

No further warning will be given motorists and those with faulty brakes, lights, horns and rear view mirrors may be subject to prosecution, officials stated.

By the end of the summer, officials hope almost 100 per cent of Alberta's vehicles will have been inspected.

Letters were sent out today by Alberta Safety Council, asking all inspection centres to return any unissued stickers.

Juror Goes To Jail

BUSHNELL, Fla.—(UP)—County Judge P. B. Howell sent deputies looking for an errant juror. F. J. Spooner. They came back with two candidates for the county jail, including Spooner. Officers found the juror drunk in a local bar, along with Wilbur Woodward, who had been summoned to answer four charges of drunkeness. Both were given jail terms.

ARCADIA, Calif., June 12—(AP)—Heavily-armed Proximity captured the 50,000 Golden West trout at Santa Anita park, Saturday.

2 Held After Alert Clerk Tips Police

Chance tip by a Seattle clerk resulted in arrest of two men alleged to have passed counterfeit travelers' cheques in Edmonton.

Report from Vancouver was that two men, a 30-year-old salesman and 40-year-old accountant, were held but not charged.

Edmonton police reported $2,200 in cheques was passed here and one of the men held was expected to reach the city today under escort.

Police at Vancouver reported the arrests broke up an international counterfeiting ring that had passed more than $100,000 in forged travellers' cheques in several American cities and Edmonton.

The arrests, made by U.S. FBI agents and Vancouver city police came after a Seattle clerk jotted down number of a driver's licence offered as identification by a man who cashed a cheque in Seattle.

LICENCE TRACED

Vancouver police traced the licence and one man was arrested. Information uncovered in a rent receipt, police said, led to a west-end house where heavy machinery obviously had been stored.

Neighbors complained of heavy motors ruining radio reception.

A neighbor told them that a moving van had called at the house recently and he had happened to notice the firm's telephone number had an east-end district prefix.

FIRM LOCATED

Police located the firm and subsequently the new establishment where a $5,000 multi-press, a copying camera, photoengraving camera, chemicals, lights and a printing frame were seized.

With it was one sample of a Bank of America traveller's cheque, the type passed in Seattle, Minneapolis, Portland and St. Louis.

Police arrested the second man at the premises.

Checks with other Canadian and American cities are being completed and four boxes of material are being investigated.

Anti-Spy Act Tightened

OTTAWA, June 15.—(CP)—The government announced today it is doubling the prison term provided under the Official Secrets Act, Canada's anti-spy law.

Justice Minister Garson, introducing a bill to amend the act, disclosed that it will boost the maximum term from seven years to 14.

The top sentences handed out under the act in the 1946 spy prosecutions were six years.

Mr. Garson said the amendments will also:

1. Extend the act to make clear that penalties for wrong doings by employes of the Crown embrace government boards, commissions, corporations or other agencies.

2. Give the act extra-territorial effect, enabling the Crown to penalize Canadians who break it outside Canada as well as foreigners who unlawfully divulge outside Canada secret information they got here.

3. Remove any doubt that persons charged or convicted under the act may be finger-printed.

Bananas Flown To Save Child

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, June 15.—(CP)—Bananas were rushed from sunny Trinidad yesterday to save the life of an ailing child in Scotland.

Two-year-old Willie Campbell of Lockable, Dumfries, suffering from a rare disease, has only four bananas to keep him alive until Friday night, information received here said.

A message from Willie's mother said he is suffering from Mceellac, a rare intestinal disease that demands a strict diet of bananas.

The shipment by Pan-American airlines through New York, where the plane will touch down today, was scheduled to arrive in Scotland Friday night.

WATER SAFETY GROUP MEETS ON SATURDAY

Special meeting of the provincial swimming and water safety committee of the Red Cross Society will be held Saturday at Sylvan Lake.

Purpose will be to introduce R. C. Bishop, new director of the water safety program of Alberta, to members, and discussion of the 1950 program.

Mr. Bishop, recently arrived from Montreal, is a graduate of McGill University.

Chairman will be H. B. Brown, a vice-president of the Edmonton branch of the Red Cross Society.

Flying Club 'Open House' Next Week

Edmonton Flying Club will spend a quiet "at home" during National Flying Club week, June 18 to 24.

Officials of the club said today there would be no show to mark the occasion.

But they emphasized that they were expecting many visitors to their establishment during the week-long annual flying club celebration and welcomes the opportunity to show club facilities.

They might let visitors take a look at the record books too, because the club here, operators say, is one of the most active in Canada.

Last year's 3,500 flying hours was the highest total of any club in the nation and this year with 1,600 hours to its credit to date, it is out in front again.

Added to the list of achievements is the fact that 22 pilots have graduated so far this year under the federal government's subsidy plan.

Rain Threat Doesn't Keep Picnic Down

The weatherman's frowns failed to dampen spirits of some 200 Eskimo and Indian patients including 60 children from Charles Camsell hospital who journeyed to Victoria Park yesterday afternoon for the annual picnic.

In fact the only sad note in the day's outing was the thought that another 250 patients had been left behind—too ill to attend.

Medical and administrative staffs of the hospital including 25 nurses and nurses' aids attended the picnic. Events were run off under master of ceremonies Harold Wright of Colonel Mewburn pavilion.

RUN OFF BY PROXY

The program included field events run off by "proxy."

Patients too ill to participate in races and tug-of-war showed appreciation for prizes when their staff member "representative" won some event.

The picnic crowd displayed a healthy appetite to go with their high spirits when they used up 800 ice cream cones, stacks of Dixie cups, 20 gallons of lemonade, 12 cases of soft drinks and 50 dozen hamburgers and hot dogs.

Tories Lose In Filibuster

LONDON, June 15. — (UP) — Winston Churchill's Conservative party lost the first round of its filibuster against the Labor government's finance bill today in the first all-night session of the new parliament.

Weary members of parliament staggered from their chambers long after sunrise when Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps dropped his earlier threat to keep the House sitting continuously until Friday noon to cope with the Tory filibuster.

The House of Commons had been sitting steadily for 16 hours and 20 minutes. It reconvenes again this afternoon to resume the struggle.

The major test during the all-night session concerned the government's recent 100 per cent increase in the gasoline tax, a move taken before wartime rationing was abandoned for the first time recently.

The Tory attempt to get the tax increase annulled failed in a series of votes.

Votes of thanks to retiring board members George Ball, John C. McLeod and Konrad Wenner were moved by Association member P. Manning.

House Damages All To Be Met

Premier Campbell Explains Relief For Flooded Homes

WINNIPEG, June 15. — (CP) — Premier Douglas L. Campbell said today that the "little man" probably will be looked after "in toto" in the matter of recompense for damage to his house from Manitoba's disastrous spring flood.

The premier made the comment after issuing a statement which disclosed that a maximum of $3,000—although some exceptions can make it higher—has been placed on flood relief to householders for damage to dwellings.

Mr. Campbell said that schedule of relief applied only to homes and farm buildings hit by the floods. Furniture, private possessions or livestock would not be included. Small businesses and other categories of establishments will be handled later.

Mr. Campbell said the government felt that the schedule of grants would take care of a very large number of damaged houses in full. Grants will be administered by the Red River Valley board.

"Our guess is that less than five per cent will exceed the maximum," said the premier.

LISTS POINTS

His statement made these points:

1. Assistance grants for flooded dwellings will be the amount of the appraised damage up to but not exceeding $3,000.

2. Assistance up to a total of $300 for other buildings appurtenant to urban homes.

3. Rehabilitation assistance up to $1,000 for barns.

4. Rehabilitation assistance for other farm buildings to be determined following individual appraisals.

5. A dwelling used in part for the conduct of business will be defined as a dwelling.

6. Where buildings are wrecked or ruined beyond repair, the appraised damage will be the estimated cost of replacement less depreciation and obsolescence.

MOVING BACK

7. When a building has shifted from its foundation, as a result of the flood, cost of moving it back will be granted in addition to rehabilitation assistance.

8. Where a building has been carried away by flood water but is in sufficiently sound condition to be moved back, the cost of moving will be granted in addition to rehabilitation assistance.

9. Additional rehabilitation assistance may be allowed when there is excessive damage to a building as a result of river currents and battering by water-driven debris.

'G9RS' CLUB

Small Circus Nets Funds For Charity

It wasn't the biggest circus ever to hit Edmonton that 12-year-olds Paul Turesik, 11138-69 street and Richard Nesimiuk, 11146-69 street, and their "Highland 69'rs" club held on 69 street this week.

But it was pretty important "big top" just the same.

Because the net proceeds of $3.53 from the sale of dime balloons and two cent grab bags went to the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund.

The circus was complete with fat lady and plenty of clowns, Lawrence Paul and treasurer Richard reported to M. Weber, secretary of the ACT crippled children's fund.

The juvenile circus impressarios are now in receipt of a grateful letter from fund. And at last reports they were planning further endeavors on behalf of the crippled children.

U.K. Orders More Timber From Soviet

LONDON, June 15.—(AP)—The government disclosed last night that it has signed contracts with Russia under which the Soviet Union will step up timber exports to Britain by 50 per cent.

It is expected Russia will provide about 150,000 standards of timber in the next year, compared with 100,000 in 1949. A standard is 1,980 board feet.

30-Storey Fall

TORONTO, June 15.—(CP)—A 40-pound piece of stone fell 30 storeys from the roof of the Bank of Nova Scotia building, under construction, to the pavement at King and Bay streets today. No one was injured.

I'm for Massed Millions

The man who writes editorials for the Journal is awfully mad at "the massed millions of Wall Street."

He's so indignant, in fact, he urges city council to chuck the whole Detwiler Miracle Mile plan overboard.

I can't understand anybody getting mad at millions of dollars, that people in Edmonton can get away from Wall Street.

As a matter of fact I have never heard of anybody up here getting millions away from Wall Street before.

And why get mad at the millions just because they are massed?

Can't think of anything more tiring than to go around picking up 25 million dollars that are scattered all over the place. I think 25 million bucks all in one mass should make a nice handy sort of package.

So if Mr. Detwiler is willing to lug 25 million dollars from Wall street to Edmonton to spend on parking lots, auditoriums, museums and the like, I say let him lug and the sooner he gets chugging on his lugging, the better.

I'm all for millions of dollars coming from Wall Street to Edmonton.

Poem by Reader

Reader Stewart Currie sent in this little jingle that I cause to have published with suitable blushes:

We sing a song of Jack DeLong,
Who tried to cross the street;
Three cars went by,
Now poor Jack's shy
Of covering for his seat.

Bertha at the Atom Cafe had Arctic Ice Co. representative Henry Loyer, scratching his head yesterday morning.

Bertha wanted to know why Henry couldn't deliver round pieces of ice that would fit inside the cafe water cooler.

Henry made Bertha happy by chopping up a big regulation block of ice with which he filled the cooler.

These icemen like to have cool customers.

The teen-agers are at it again. Now it's bleached hair.

Bill Campbell, our office boy, who seems normal most of the time, has converted himself into a ginger blonde. He had nice dark brown hair this time last week.

Bill's real proud of the fact he's the first male kid in Edmonton to peroxide his hair.

I have to be frank. I liked Bill better with brown hair. I like blonde hair O.K. when it's on people like Betty Hutton.

Pipe of Peace

I smoked a peace pipe with J. B. Cross of Calgary yesterday. J. B. has been attending the annual meeting of the Alberta Hotelmens' Association.

It's the 26th hotel convention for Mr. Cross.

Down in Calgary he's pretty well known, as president of Calgary Brewing Co. and president of Calgary Exhibition Association.

Mr. Cross tells me the Calgary Stampede is going to be bigger and better than ever this summer.

He thinks it's nice of Edmonton to go baking a birthday cake for Calgary.

Bill McDougall, who is northern Alberta representative for Calgary Brewing Co. introduced me to Mr. Cross.

He seemed like such a nice guy that I made a vow never to call Calgary cowtown anymore.

A prosperous goodnight to all and especially to people who can move massed millions from Wall Street to Edmonton.

OFFICERS of Alberta Hotel Association were all returned at conclusion of convention in Edmonton yesterday. They include Charles B. Guterson, Drumheller, second vice-president; Fred Thompson, Calgary, supervising secretary; A. G. Swinarton, Macleod, president, and Robert McDonald, Edmonton, first vice-president.

More Study Is Required On Publicity

Finance Group Suggests New Committee Consider Scheme

Still another committee should be appointed before Edmonton officially ties into the job of putting itself on the map.

Last night's special finance committee meeting to consider city publicity came to that conclusion.

It recommended to city council that a committee of six, consisting of two council members, two nominees of the Exhibition association, and two nominees of the Put Edmonton on the Map committee, be appointed to study the whole business and bring its recommendations back to council.

PUBLICITY MAN

While it was not embodied in the motion, it was generally agreed the first job of the committee would be to consider appointment of a executive publicity or promotion man, to be directly responsible for putting the city's best publicity foot forward.

Only other concrete result of the two-hour session was a motion recommending to council that a designer be retained to work out design of a large central downtown gateway, symbolizing the city's adopted theme, "Gateway to the North."

Committee members agreed that Hod W. MacKenzie, who was responsible for designing the new city crest, would be a good man for the gateway job.

Dick Rice, chairman of the Put Edmonton on the Map committee, pointed out that even if the gateway is not built this year, at least the city will have a gateway design upon which standard miniatures and novelties can be based.

Mayor Sid Parsons questioned whether council would ever entertain such a salary—the top figure twice the highest salary now paid any civic official.

SALARIES LOW

But the suggestion prompted Dick Rice, chairman of the Put Edmonton on the Map Committee, to say a lot of Edmonton business men are ashamed of the salaries being paid civic officials.

He pointed out the city is one of the biggest financial operations in the province, and those running it should be paid commensurate salaries.

In Ottawa, over the past 10 years, the federal civic service has been boosting salaries until now it completes with business for the top brains of the country. Edmonton could take a leaf from its book, he argued.

Mr. Rice suggested "a horizon" of $8,000 to start for a promotion man or woman, with adequate increases as the results warranted.

Mr. Wood then admitted he had been fairly generous in his salary estimate, and that "in view of the fact that our day and age seems generally to accept the idea that a woman can be paid half as much as a man for comparable work," it might be possible to secure a promotion woman for $3,000 a year, or a man for $6,000.

While nothing was decided by vote, Chairman Ald. Dick Hanna made it clear he didn't think the publicity promotion would get very far without a full-time promoter.

High Figure For Salary

An atom-bomb explosion on downtown Jasper wouldn't have caused more consternation.

When Dave Wood told last night's special finance committee that a full-time promotion and publicity man of the calibre needed to "Put Edmonton on the Map" will cost anywhere from $12,000 to $15,000 a year, a gasp of amazement swept the committee room at the Civic Block.

50 Truckers Are Checked As Highway Patrol Busy

Alberta's "biggest little police force" went into action on a broad front yesterday.

In their first big offensive of the year against overloaded gravel trucks, Alberta Highway Traffic Board Chief Inspector C. C. Smith, 11436-77 street, and Inspector J. J. Klipper, 9751-75 avenue, hailed 50 trucks and ordered them to city weighing scales, 99 street and 101A avenue.

It was the start of the summer gravel-hauling season, busiest time of the year for the traffic board.

Most truckers know about the highway traffic board but few Albertans realize that the 14 inspectors who cover the whole province comprise a force which has full police power to handle traffic cases.

The highway traffic board men have equal authority in Alberta with the RCMP, under the highways Traffic Act and the Public Services' Vehicles Act.

They can arrest motorists for speeding or any other traffic offence. They investigate offences when they're the first policemen on the scene, though they usually turn them over to the RCMP.

They do all these things but because of their small size concentrate mostly on checking the province's trucks for "overloads" and safety equipment, said Chief Inspector Smith.

OVERLOADS

Yesterday afternoon, they concentrated entirely on checking for "overloads" the 50 trucks which lined up along 99 street. They had been sent there by Inspector Klipper who stopped every truck coming into the city between 2 and 5 p.m. at the city limits on highway 15.

Most of the trucks proved to be overloaded, reported Chief Inspector Smith. The drivers are technically liable for immediate prosecution but the board usually gives them a first warning.

On a properly loaded truck, the weight is supposed to be distributed three times as great to the back axle as to the front. Maximum total weights under provincial law are 24,000 pounds for 900-20 tires and 20,000 pounds for 825-20 tires. It is on the basis of tire sizes (900-20 and 825-20 are the most widely used) that maximum weights are estimated.

Chief Inspector Smith travels the province, organizing safety "drives" by his men.

And it is his job to be mistaken everywhere for something other than an Alberta highway traffic board officer.

"Most people think we're a branch of the RCMP," he said philosophically. "And others mistake us for American army officers because of the resemblance of the uniforms."

BRIGHT SIDE

Fans Retain Popularity For Hot Day

The good old-fashioned fan is back in popularity.

Easily the most popular item at the hotelmen's convention were the fans distributed to the women by Curt Smith of Wetaskiwin.

Mr. Smith, an Alberta pioneer, said he studied the weather forecasts before the convention. When he saw it was going to be warm he came prepared.

Attending the Edmonton District Junior Calf Club Fair and Sale the reporter spotted a colleague in the arena.

He waved. Colleague failed to observe. Waved again. Similar result. After two more tries he noticed the auctioneer was running price of calf at each wave.

Auctioneer shouted to reporter: "You bid 31 cents a pound, sir." Flustered reporter assured auctioneer it was all one big mistake.

"Don't wave again" said auctioneer, "or you've bought yourself a calf."

How police can a gas company get?

There's a sign over an excavation project on 101 street near 106 avenue that says:

"Sorry folks for today's inconvenience—but we're working for a cleaner, warmer Edmonton."

It's informally signed "your gas company."

This prompted one pedestrian to remark, "Why doesn't the city put up signs, 'sorry folks to tear up this new pavement for the third time but we'll get her finished eventually.'"

Edmonton Police Force With Best Says Mayor

Edmonton's police force is one of the finest in Canada, and misdemeanors of a few members should not be taken as a reflection on the whole force

This was Mayor Sid Parsons' comment following the most recent episode involving members of the police force.

The mayor said that as a whole, Edmonton's police are among the finest in the country, and just because a few "get off the rails" once in a while, the force should not be condemned.

INCIDENT

Several weeks ago Constable James Dean and C. O. Rykstad left the force as result of an incident involving a police prowler car.

Yesterday it was announced that Constables J. R. Boyle and D. R. Morrison have left the force after a Saturday night episode allegedly involving a shotgun and an erratically driven automobile.

Asked if commissioners plan any enquiry into the police force operation, the mayor said that in both cases the men have been relieved of their jobs, and in the latter case they both face court charges.

He could see no reason for an enquiry into the whole operation of the force simply because of the actions of a few members.

An authoritative civic source said today that, contrary to some publicly-expressed opinions, the present scale of police pay is adequate in keeping the force up to strength.

Rookies come on the force at approximately $165 per month, and it costs the city more than $2,000 after the rookie's first year to outfit him with uniforms and equipment.

Wit, Wisdom Helpful As Justice Dispensed

Wit was combined with judicial wisdom in Magistrate J. W. McCulla's Police traffic Court yesterday.

There was the young man who had been charged with making "unnecessary noise" with his horn. It developed he had been a member of a wedding procession.

"There's too much tooting around when people get married," observed the Magistrate. "They'll have a hard time tooting their way out of it. Five dollars and costs."

Another young man appeared before him charged with speeding.

This occurred along the Stony Plain road, explained Constable Ron Hooper, court clerk. The reason, he added, was "two blondes" which the accused was pursuing.

The excuse appeared to interest Magistrate McCulla. He questioned accused and drew the information that the pursuit was done in the interests of two young service men in the car.

"Don't chase any more blondes in your car," said the Magistrate. "Twenty-five dollars and costs."

A severe warning combined with a light fine was handed down to the Chinese grocer who appeared on charges of selling groceries on Sunday. It was his second appearance on such a charge, according to evidence.

Magistrate McCulla lowered his eyes to hide the twinkle. "Five dollars and costs. And don't you come back again or you're liable to go down for life."

Liquor Checks To Be Tighter

General tightening up in the enforcement of liquor laws was forecast by A. J. Mason, chairman Alberta Liquor Control Board, to Hotel Association convention in Macdonald hotel Tuesday.

Sale of beer to patrons will be limited to two glasses or one bottle for each customer on the table at any one time, he said.

The act with respect to minors has been amended so that not only the hotelman but the minor will be subject to a fine. Birth certificates are the only way to prove ages, he said, and it is up to the hotelmen to see the act is enforced.

Short supplies through the war years and immediately after held up improvements necessary to bring the hotels up to the standards required in Alberta.

Sale of hotels in the province since the first of the year numbered 41, in 1949, 94 changed hands.

Human Nature Much The Same

A padre "looked at life" at the meeting of Edmonton Gyro club in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday.

Padre "Bill"—Rev. T. W. Jones of Calvary United church, Montreal, chose as his after-luncheon subject a talk on his travels and experiences at home and abroad.

He took his hearers to Bermuda, Newfoundland, across Canada, British Isles and Holland.

These 28 playgrounds will be staffed with 31 directors who have spent the last three weeks participating in an extensive training course sponsored by the Dept. of Extension, University of Alberta and City of Edmonton Recreation Commission.

Several new areas are under development, including a new layout at Scona with some apparatus being installed. Property at Glenora has been levelled and will soon be ready for installation of equipment.

Remainder are expected to be completed in the near future.

Gaming House Fine Is Levied

Metro Roman, termed a "small operator" by Assistant Prosecutor Guy Beaudry in police court today, was fined $100 on charge of keeping a gaming house at 10166-97 street.

He pleaded guilty to the charge. Evidence of Detectives Harry Nelson and B. Nicholson who visited the establishment early this morning was that Roman got only a small "rake-off" from card-players.

Summer Eye-Care Important to Beauty

By Bea Thrifty

La-de-dah . . . in the good ol' summer-time . . . tra-la-la . . . I positively thrive on sunshine 'n roses 'n sweetness 'n light.

Winter weariness is forgotten and I leap about gazelle-like with about as much grace as an awkward baby elephant . . . ah me . . .

But before I ruin the day completely with this gibberish I thought I'd toss in a phrase or three about eye care in the summer sunshine.

A pair of sunglasses doesn't end your responsibility to your eyes. Increased hours in the open mean they're double-exposed to sun glare, wind-burn and dust.

• • •

But before we dispense with sunglasses there's a word or three I'd like to toss your way about a bargain buy at $1.50. These glasses are ground from a specially high-priced prescription for best eye-ease in string sunlight.

They're glasses which were made for armed services during war years and the surplus is selling at less than cost price.

Some are available at jewelry stores . . . a fe win some department stores. Watch for them with light frames and comfortable shape.

Now, on with this business of eye-care:

First rule is to keep your hands away from your eyes regardless of how tired, how irritated they feel. To relieve this discomfort it's a good idea to bathe eyes with a mild boric acid solution.

These cotton balls are also useful as eye brighteners. Saturated with cold boric solution and placed as pads on closed lids, they soothe and refresh your eyes.

This is a good thing to remember if you discover, when dressing for an important evening, your eyes are work-reddened or dull looking.

• • •

The day you glance in your dressing table mirror and your face looks as if you've applied flour instead of powder.

The sun has been slyly at work . . . tanning your complexion three shades darker than your powder.

• • •

Lucky ol' Edmonton gals may saunter down to a local cosmetic shop and have powder blended to suit their new skin shade.

The blending costs nothing extra . . . the purchase of the powder covers the courtesy gesture.

• • •

Or if you're the independent type buy a sun-tan shade and blend it with your winter powder until the right color wins through.

Keep adding the sun-tan shade as the season progresses and your skin darkens.

Incidentally . . . while on the subject of summer cosmetics . . . you'll have to choose between coolness of no make-up and protection of the shielding base.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Girl Refuses to Admit Man Doesn't Love Her

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a woman of 37, in love with a man who professes to love me, but frankly tells me that he has no intention of ever marrying.

He wants to be my lover, but not my husband. Of late the scarcity of his dates makes me feel that he is trying to let me down easy. In fact, there are no dates except of my making.

He never takes the initiative. The days that I don't see him are such long hours of hope and fear and desparate desire that I am driven by something stronger than myself to call him on some excuse or other.

Usually that results in my seeing him and the world is right again. Must I stop calling him, knowing it will probably mean never seeing him again? Would I be justified in having an affair with him, or may I hope that what I desire is true and that he IS in love with me, but is reluctant to give up his bachelor freedom?

ALICE

Answer: Nothing else on earth is more pathetic than the besotted folly of a woman who is in love with a man who does not love her, for she refuses to use any intelligence in dealing with the catastrophe.

FACTS ARE OBVIOUS

She shuts her eyes to facts that are so obvious that a blind woman should see them. She refuses to acknowledge defeat, and prolongs her agony by hoping against hope that some miracle is going to happen that will turn a man who is cold and indifferent to her into an ardent lover and make a confirmed bachelor lead her to the altar.

Evidently this man is tired of you, or else you wouldn't have to hound him on the telephone to get him to make dates with you. A man in love is eager for his sweetheart's society and is always planning ways for them to be together. He doesn't love you, or else he would marry you.

He intended to throw you over after the romance wore thin. Otherwise he would have married you to begin with and saved the scandal. Believe me, you have a lot less to weep over as a deserted sweetheart than you would as a deserted mistress.

Of all the useless pursuits, the most profitless is running after a man who is running away from you. Give it up and forget him.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Both Parents Needed For Proper Bringing Up

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

No one can regiment, police or force love. It is not an emotion which can be resuscitated once it is tattered or dead.

It must be acknowledged, too, that some women are more strongly maternal than they are wifely.

Mr. W. D. H. writes, "I have a wife and baby. I love them more than words can express. She is a wonderful wife and the baby is the sweetest in the world.

MAY GET DIVORCE

"Our baby is one year year old and we have been married eight years. Now, my wife has gone home to her mother and I am suffering terribly because she is away. She says she may come back and then she says she may get a divorce. I know at one time she loved me and I hope to bring her back.

It is unusual for a man to be so effusive in his expressions of affection.

A baby needs both a father and a mother. The boy needs a father upon whom to pattern himself so that he will become manlike and not womanlike. He needs him as an interpreter of life for no woman can interpret it as ably for her son as can a man.

ADVICE NEEDED

It is hard to understand why she took this step after seven years of marriage except that you have now become distasteful to her.

It would be my suggestion that you find some able marriage counsellor either at your local Family Society, or your own minister, priest or rabbi, or any other reliable individual who is skilled in this work. By bringing you both together and hearing both sides of this situation the marriage might be saved.

Our leaflet No. 78 "Help To Be Had From Books," offers lists of books on various subjects of interest to parents. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Engineer, Editor Woman Is Success

SYDNEY, Australia — (CP) — Seventy-one-year-old Mrs. Florence Taylor, O.B.E., is one of Australia's most successful business women.

For many years a qualified structural engineer and architect she also runs a profitable business as managing director of a publishing company in Sydney which puts out three technical magazines for the building and engineering trades.

It wasn't until five years later that she overcame prejudice and was accepted by the institute.

Mrs. Taylor, born in Bristol, England, didn't always find easy going in invading the man's world of engineering. In 1905, when she applied for membership in the Institute of Architects of Australia she was refused.

By that time she was firmly established as Australia's first woman architect and first woman structural engineer. For many years Mrs. Taylor was also the only woman member of the Master Printers' Association.

BRIDGE

Rough, Tough Play Is Not To Over-Ruff

By Oswald Jacoby

"Somebody's feeding these fellows meat," said Generous George. "They bid such a lot against me that it's really embarrassing. I try to give them a trick now and then, but nothing helps. They just keep on going down."

As usual, George's generosity had cost him nothing. On the contrary, it had cost the opponents the game and rubber.

George, holding the West cards, opened the deuce of hearts. East won with the ten of hearts and returned the queen.

It was obvious to everybody at the table that George had led a singleton heart. Declarer therefore trumped with the king of spades to prevent George from making a trick with a small trump.

It was at this point that George was overcome by generosity. Instead of over-trumping with the ace of spades, he discarded a low club with a fatherly gesture.

South properly tried to draw trumps in a hurry, leading the queen of spades for the purpose. West took the ace of spades, and led a club to his partner's ace. The defenders now had three tricks in, and another heart lead by East put declarer in the lead.

If South ruffed low West would naturally over-ruff. South had to ruff with the ace and lay down the ten of spades in the hope of drawing both of the missing trumps. This plan did not work since West was able to drop his deuce of spades on the ten, after which his nine was high.

It is easy to see that George did not give up a thing when he refused to over-ruff declarer at the second trick. As a matter of fact, if he had over-ruffed, South would have made the contract.

For example, suppose that West takes the ace of spades at the second trick. He then leads a club to East's ace. East returns a third heart, and South ruffs with the queen. Now South can take the jack and ten of spades, drawing the trumps without further loss.

SOROPTIMIST CLUB of Edmonton will be represented at the 11th biennial convention of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs by Mrs. Mary Cuthill. Convention will be held at Olympic Hotel, Seattle, Wash., from July 2 to 7.

Dr. J. O'Brien Chooses Bride

LLOYDMINSTER, June 14—Calla Joan Howell became the bride of Dr. Joseph Austin O'Brien in a pretty morning ceremony at St. Anthony's church recently.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. H. Howell of Lloydminster. Dr. O'Brien is son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. O'Brien.

White gladioli and red roses decorated the altar for the ceremony which was performed by Rev. B. G. Gorman, Pastor of St. Anthony's and cousin of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length dress of white brocade, featuring a fitted bodice, high neck-line and a full skirt. Her finger tip veil of illusion net, fell from a small white satin bonnet wreathed with lilies of the valley. She carried a white prayer book topped with sweetheart roses and long white streamers.

Mrs. Leo Cavanagh, her sister's only attendant, wore a mauve brocade gown styled with a slightly bouffant skirt and short sleeves. A mauve halo hat, matching lace mittens, and a prayer book topped with yellow roses completed her ensemble.

Dr. A. A. Gorman of Taber was best man and ushering the guests were Dr. Robert Howell and Dr. Joseph Lauerman.

Mrs. G. Cummine presided at the organ and Father G. L. Green, Edmonton, was soloist.

Mrs. E. W. H. Howell, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue faille dress with white accessories and a c rsage of red roses.

Mrs. O'Brien chose a pale blue crepe and lace dress, with long matching lace mittens, black hat and a corsage of Talisman roses for her son's wedding.

A reception for sixty guests was held in the Parish Hall which was decorated with mauve lilac and apple blossoms.

The bride's table, laid in white linen, was centred by a three tiered wedding cake flanked by sweetheart roses and tall white tapers.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. T. Dobson.

For a trip to the United States the bride changed to a coral red suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

The young couple will make their home in Edmonton.

To Make Jam

Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in pectin. Mix the other fruits with the chopped raisins, peel and nuts which have been dredged with some of the flour kept for that purpose. Bake in slow oven.

Rhubarb Ripe and Ready For Summer-Time Dessert Treats

It wouldn't be Spring without plenty of rhubarb, for the hardy, pink-toned stalks are the first promise of good things to come.

Rich fruit shortcakes, hot fragant pies, juicy warm cobblers and then, of course, plenty of fresh rhubarb sauce to serve in a variety of ways.

Serve rosy rhubarb in sparkling orange cups for breakfast to accent the smoky goodness of a mellow ham slice or the sweet-smoke taste of crisp bacon.

Tart stewed rhubarb is also a delightful accompaniment to delicately flavored lamb or roast pork.

If you like the distinctive flavor of ham with fruit, bake a thick ham slice in a cup of rhubarb sauce. Use a slow oven for this (325 degrees F.) and allow about 25 to 30 minutes per pound. Drizzle honey and brown sugar over the top and stud ham with fragrant cloves if you like.

Then for a real old-fashioned supper dessert, make a crusty rhubarb cobbler. Thickened rhubarb sauce is topped with a sweetened drop biscuit batter, to bake in the oven and serve warm with plenty of cream. Can you think of a more delightful way to welcome the season?

Drop biscuits are quick to mix and almost fool-proof to make. A quality shortening assures a rich, tender biscuit dough that good mixing technique safeguards.

Be light-handed when you work with the dough and you have the main secret of success. Remember, too long or too hard stirring makes a tough biscuit. That's why the milk is added all at once and the mixture stirred just until blended to make a very soft dough. Drop by tablespoons on the hot fruit mixture.

Sprinkle the rich shortcake top generously with sugar just before you slide it into the oven. It bakes crusty with spackles of sugar. Serve the cobbler warm with fragrant hot coffee; pass the cream and more rhubarb sauce.

Now that rhubarb has finally arrived, let's serve it often. It's the fulfillment of a winter's longing your family will expect.

RHUBARB COBBLER

Yield: 9 Servings

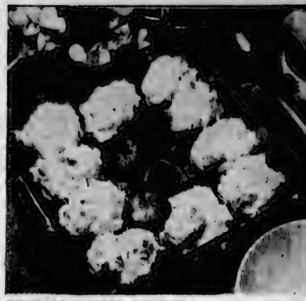
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cornstarch.
4 cups rhubarb pieces
1 cup water

TOPPING

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 cup milk (about)

Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch together. Add rhubarb and water. Pour into baking pan 8x8x2 inches. Place in hot oven (425°F.) and bring to a boil. Mix flour, salt, baking powder and 2 tablespoons sugar. Cut in shortening until the mixture is the consistency of cornmeal.

Add milk and blend to make drop batter. Drop by tablespoons on the hot fruit mixture. Sprinkle one tablespoon of sugar on top. Bake in a hot oven (425°F.) 20 minutes.



RHUBARB SUMMER DELIGHT is ours when fresh, juicy stalks appear in local gardens. Dumpling treat with rhubarb for fruit base is a family favorite.

OATMEAL COOKIES

3 cups oatmeal
1 cup pastry flour
1 cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup sour milk
1 tsp. soda.

Put a little sugar on top of each cookie after they are rolled thin and placed on pan. Bake around 375 deg. for 12 or 15 minutes.

★ ★ ★

DROP COOKIES

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup shortening
2½ cups flour
2 tbsp. milk (or ½ cup)

Put 1 tsp. cream of tartar and 1 tsp. baking soda in flour with a shake of salt. Drop by spoonful on greased pan, press a little if desired. Bake in moderate oven.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

METHOD: Boil macaroni in salted water until tender. Drain and rinse in hot water. Place in layers, grate cheese over, add salt, pepper and butter. Repeat and make two layers. Add 1 egg well beaten, ½ cup milk. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 15 minutes. Serves 6.

QUANTITY: One cup broken macaroni, ½ lb. grated cheese, salt, pepper, 2 tbsp. butter or margarine, 1 egg well beaten. Pour milk over to cover macaroni.

★ ★ ★

DUMPLINGS

1 cup flour
½ tsp. salt
Cold water
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. shortening

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Rub in shortening lightly with fingers, add enough water to make dough hold together. Drop by spoonfuls into stew.

Safety News

By CECIL "TIGER GOLDSTICK

Keep your eye out for the Bulletin Whippers Safety Club for the next couple of days.

Because it will be keeping an eye on you. And if it likes what it sees you may win a prize.

In other words I am going to tour the city in the Safety Car looking for special examples of youngsters showing good safety consciousness.

The best 10 I see will receive a free ticket to Jack Berry's boxing card Friday night.

Incidentally I'd like to say thanks here to Jack for donating the tickets to the show.

It's just another example of the interest he always takes in the welfare of this city's youngsters.

And here's a tip straight from the Safety Car:

If you want to win a ticket to the boxing matches don't act like one boy I saw yesterday.

He crossed right in front of an automobile on his bicycle in the middle of the road, flirting with disaster and giving the motorist a bad enough scare to last him the rest of the day.

The driver of the car was pretty angry about the whole business, for which he can hardly be blamed.

The excuse given by the youngster on the bike for his actions was that he was "in a hurry."

Actually "hurries" don't come important enough to warrant cutting in front of a moving automobile.

It doesn't take that long to go to the intersection designed for turning traffic—nor much longer to look both ways to find out how much leeway you have for your turn.

At that the bike rider in question might win one of the prize tickets. After I had a talk with him he agreed he hadn't acted very wisely.

See you at the boxing matches.

Wrong Juror Called

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UP) — One talesman called for jury duty was excused as soon as his name was spotted on the list. He is District Attorney Stewart Hellman, who was to prosecute criminal cases set for trial during the jury period.

Materntiy Record Set

PITTSFIELD, Mass.—(UP)— In the past three years, no Pittsfield mother has died in childbirth, City Health Commissioner Willys M. Monroe said he believes it is the first time in American medical history that a city of more than 50,000 residents achieved such a record.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily had gone through so many adventures, and had been in so much danger, that the sudden appearance of the new fox did not bother the rabbit gentleman very much.

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose. He looked at the new fox who had popped out of the bushes. Then Uncle Wiggily looked at Sammie, Susie and Jackie Bow-Wow. The little animal children were not very happy at seeing the new fox.

As for that animal with a big tail like a dusting brush, he was very bold. He stared with bold eyes at Uncle Wiggily. He stared with bold eyes at Susie.

"I'm going to take you away with me, Susie!" yapped the fox.

"Oh, no you're not! said Uncle Wiggily.

"Who will stop me?" snarled the new fox.

"I will," gently answered Mr. Longears. "I certainly will."

"Ho! Ho! You and who else?" asked the fox sneering like and bold.

"I will put some salt on your tail and then you won't be so fresh," answered the brave little rabbit boy.

"Ho! Ho! Ho! I like to see you salt me!" yapped the fox.

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose and said:

"Let's try and be friendly. You are a new fox around here, aren't you?"

"Yes, I am," answered the fox. "My name is Dusting Brush on account of my big tail."

"Yes, you have a very fine tail," said Uncle Wiggily. "Do you know Fuzzy Fox, Mr. Dusting Brush?"

"Yes, he is my cousin. He used to chase you."

"But he doesn't any more," said Uncle Wiggily. "Fuzzy Fox and I are now good friends. And do you know Woozie Wolf?"

"Oh, yes his uncle is my father's cousin. Woozie Wolf also used to chase you, didn't he?"

"He did," answered Uncle Wiggily. "But now Woozie Wolf and I are good friends. He chases me no more. Neither does Bobbie the Bob Cat. We are friends. Do you know Bobbie the Bob Cat?"

"Oh, yes Bobbie and I belong to the same baseball team."

"Then you see," said Uncle Wiggily, "you made a mistake by coming here, Dusting Brush. You can't get anything."

"Oh, but I must!" yapped the Fresh Fox. "I told Eenie the wolverine I was going to catch a rabbit and I must. Also Eenie will think I am a sissy. No, I must take Susie."

"No," said Uncle Wiggily bravely, "you must not. Now I am going to give you a test. If you can hold this bean on your nose, I will give you a present."

"I won't move!" said the fox. He didn't move. But the Mexican bean flipped off his nose and the fox was so surprised that he tucked his tail between his legs and away he ran as fast as he could run.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "That Mexican jumping bean has helped us very much."

"Tell us about the funny bean," begged Susie.

And Uncle Wiggily did, as you shall hear in the next story

Brewster Heads Indian Days Group

Annual Banff Celebration To Be July 20-23 This Year

Claude B. Brewster of Banff has been named president of the Banff Indian Days Association, succeeding Norman K. Luxton, who has been directing or otherwise assisting with the annual four-day celebrations of the Indians here for the past 60 years.

Mr. Brewster's appointment precedes by only a few weeks the 61st annual observance of Indian Days scheduled for July 20-23. On those dates some 800 Stony Indians, reinforced by Cree, Sarcee, Blackfeet and Blood Indians, will perform for their Pale Face brethren at Banff and at their temporary tee-pee encampment at the buffalo paddocks.

Born in Banff, where he is manager of Brewster Industries, Mr. Brewster has been closely associated with Indians of the Alberta foothills for the greater part of his life.

FUR TRADER

As operator of the Seebe trading post for 20 years, Mr. Brewster has counted thousands of Indians in his clientele, having frequently taken squirrel hides in exchange for groceries.

"Sometimes they offered rifles and even horses in exchange for merchandise," recalls Mr. Brewster, who can do a chicken dance as well as many a Stony. "Then back they'd come in the Spring and redeem them."

Mr. Brewster, who is outfitter to the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, has been hiring Stony Indians as guides to the organization almost since its inception. "They make a big hit with the dudes" he says.

Banff museum contains well-arranged and displayed exhibits of the fauna, flora and geology of the parks and has also an interesting collection of native Indian relics and handiwork.

Elk Menace Famed Banff Golf Course

If you asked Casper McCullough, newly appointed manager of Banff Springs Hotel golf course, what constituted a worse menace than a player who failed to replace divots, his answer would be "elk."

Though protected by six miles of steel fencing, 10 feet high, especially constructed to discourage the animals, the famous course is at times visited by the otherwise harmless animals, and says Casper, "It's part of my job to see that they leave in a hurry."

GEESE, TOO

Nor did he take kindly to a playful coyote which once made off with a golf ball—and it hadn't stopped rolling. On another occasion a flock of Canada geese chose a choice tee for a convention. Casper put them to flight but back they came to the same spot.

Fortunately these incursions of wild life are confined to the off-season periods of early spring and late fall, and golfers have nothing more to distract them than the breath-taking mountain scenery along the course that follows the winding Bow River for some four and a half miles.

HOT WEATHER RECIPE—A cool bit of meadow in the shadow of mountains surrounding Banff and Lake Louise looks just as cool to us as it must feel to this deer. The mountain park is a happy hunting ground for camera enthusiasts, and all because of snapshooting opportunities like this.

Sulphur Springs Held Beneficial

The therapeutic value of the hot Banff Sulphur Springs is beyond exaggeration; the waters are radio-active, they contain 8.5 units of dissolved radium and 22.1 units of Radium Emanation (Niton).

They are especially valuable for sufferers from rheumatism, arthritis and kindred ailments and also for the treatment of skin affections.

Plenty Of Tennis Handy At Banff

When the Banff Springs Hotel is in operation members of the Banff Tennis Club and visitors have the privilege of playing on the splendid hotel courts.

There are also a few privately owned courts in Banff and the Parks Bureau maintains several clay courts on the Recreation Ground.

BANFF MECCA FOR ARTISTS

Now known throughout the continent, the Banff School of Fine Arts, operated by the extension department of the University of Alberta, will be in session at Banff from July 11 to August 19. Painters, water-colorists, and students interested in stagecraft and other branches of the fine arts have made Banff their mecca.

Caracas, capital of Venezuela, has a population of 383,000 people in the grounds.

Fish Hatchery

A fish hatchery is located about half a mile from the centre of Banff on the road to the Bow Falls and a visit to the hatchery and rearing ponds will be found educational.

Playgrounds

Playgrounds specially designed for the smaller children are situated in the rear of the Museum building at Banff for safe amusement amid the healthiest and most enjoyable surroundings. Picnic shelters, equipped with cooking stoves, tables, etc., are also located

Fishing Guide Returns For Third Banff Year

All set for what he predicts will be a banner year for anglers in the Canadian Rockies, J. B. "Jimmie" Shaw has arrived to commence his third consecutive year as fishing guide.

A native of Banff, where he has been fishing local mountain lakes and streams since his early boyhood, Mr. Shaw is well acquainted with the haunts and habits of the big fellows. This summer he will share that knowledge with visitors wishing to match wits with a scrappy 10-pound Rainbow trout or a 20-pound "laker."

"Approximately 90 per cent of those I take out have had little or no fishing experience," says Mr Shaw, who instructs as well as guides. "When they land that first trout you'd think it was the biggest moment in their lives."

THROWS 'EM BACK

Keenly aware of the importance of fish conservation in the national parks, Mr. Shaw uses barbless hooks but only for instructing purposes. As a result, he has thrown away more fish than the average angler has hooked and kept. For best local results, he recommends a light split cane or glass rod, double taper line, light reel, and the bucktail fly.

A veteran of the Royal Canadian Signals Corps, Mr. Shaw spent a year in the government information bureau in Banff prior to commencing his guide services at Banff Springs Hotel in 1947.

You Could Read This Under Water

Water so free of impurities and silt that headings of newspapers may be read, though these papers are sunk in ten feet of water and weighted down with rocks on the bottom of the lake, is one of the attractions of Lac Beauvert, (The Beautiful (Green Lake) in Jasper National Park, on the shore of which stand the bungalows of Jasper Park Lodge.

These waters also are icy cold, for they are fed by glacial springs, and in order that guests at the Lodge may swim in comfort a magnificent tiled swimming pool, with warm water, has been constructed on the shore of the lake.

In addition to the ease with which printed words may be read through the intervening water, guests are able to paddle out on the lake's surface in canoes and see fish swimming far below them.

Exceptionally Good Groceteria

Located on a corner lot in a well populated section of Edmonton. This business is also on the self-service principle and has the added attraction of a Post Office, which brings the customers to its doors. Just full line of equipment and building which includes a 30x50 included in the price. The turnover is $8,000 per month and the total sum required to handle this with the Post Office is fully priced at $20,000—big stock and fixtures $12,000 cash is all that is required for a deal, with the balance at $200 per month, which would be less than the rental value of the building.

OFF TO PROD THE SOD?

A sunny Spring day brings out the "back to nature" urge in everyone. The only discouraging part to gardening is you have to wait several months to see the results.

When you use an inexpensive want ad to sell your "don't wants," the cash results are immediate. The same is true when you insert a "wanted to buy" classified ad. The results are surprisingly quick.

It's so easy to place an Edmonton Bulletin want ad; just call 42111 and say "charge it."

PARTING with his Hereford calf which won grand championship and sold to T. Eaton Company Western Limited at 63 cents a pound is Harold Borle, 12, Ray, Alta. Calf won Edmonton District Junior Calf Club Show, weighed 740 pounds.

Organizers Satisfied With Junior Calf Fair

Organizers of Edmonton District Junior Calf Club Fair and Sale at the exhibition grounds were "well satisfied" with prices paid for the 93 calves auctioned.

Average price for the calves, reared and exhibited by members of five Alberta junior farming clubs, was 30.7 cents per pound.

The young farmers, aged 12 to 21, had earlier yesterday entered their animals in the club's championship.

EATON'S BUYS CHAMP

The champion, a 740-pound Hereford heifer reared by Harold Borle of St. Albert, was bought by T. Eaton Co. (Western) Ltd., at 63 cents a pound after keen bidding.

Eaton's also outbid other buyers when reserve champion, owned by Hilda Behn, St. Lina, was auctioned. Forty-five cents a pound was paid for the 750-pound calf.

Winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce championship showman cup was Don Schmalzbauer, Maloy.

TWO JUDGES

Judges were W. Mead, Alberta Livestock Commissioner, and W. H. Lyons, retired Burns and Co. buyer.

Strongest bidders out of some twelve buyers present were Weller and Williams Co, Ltd.; Burns and Co., Ltd.; Safeway Stores, Ltd.; and Swift Canadian Co., Ltd.

Approximately 80 per cent of the calves were heifers.

Auctioneers were Don Ball, Maury Jacobs and Don Ball, Jr.

Far North Hunting Party Turns Up

NOME, Alaska, June 15—(AP)—A nine-man hunting party, unreported for a week, has been found safe at an Arctic village north of Nome.

The group, composed of Tex Ziegler, an airlines pilot, and eight natives, last night was reported waiting for favorable weather to continue a trip to Diomede Island.

Radio Technicians Return To Work

NEW YORK, June 15 — (UP) — CBS technicians ended a three-day strike today, returning to the network's TV and radio studios, while union and company officials negotiate a settlement in their contract dispute.

Federal Mediation Commissioner J. R. Mandelbaum announced the truce last night and said both sides agreed on further negotiations starting Monday.

Reds Reject Amnesty

RANGOON, Burma, June 15—(AP)—The Burmese press reported yesterday that Thakin Than Tun's "White Flag" Communists have rejected the government's offer of amnesty. The rebel Communists declared they will fight "until victory is achieved."

Block For Block

BERLIN, June 15—(AP) — West Berlin tied up 22 Soviet zone barges yesterday for alleged irregularities in shipping documents. Authorities indicated that the stiffened control on eastern barge traffic through allied sectors will continue as long as the Soviet zone blocks Berlin scrap metal exports.

Killer Said Insane

TEEN TALK

Frustrated Parents Are Advised to Come Here

By JACKIE SEIFERT

Parents! Do you feel frustrated when your sweet young offspring asks you for the lickage of your clock? Or do you think that you're going slowly but surely mad when informed that sonny's off to dig the chicks at the cashah for a shake?

Don't beat your heads against the wall in despair—come to Edmonton. You'll find that teens here don't go all out to make themselves conspicuous in their manner of speech.

True, they do find ways to express themselves, but they tend to be a little more conservative than teens in other centres.

None of that "Holy Cow" and "Holy Crow" business for us. We've abbreviated it to plain ordinary "Crow" with a few more exclamation marks and "Holy Cow" died long ago.

A "square" is not a geometrical figure with four equal sides. It's a guy or gal that isn't hep to the latest in blues, bebop, and boogie.

Square plus queer equals squeer isn't exactly the algebraic equation a professor would use but it'll do for the teen-ager's definition of a geek.

For the guidance of puzzled parents, here are the definitions of some of the expressions their children are using:

Dollie: a gal that's really sharp.

Hulk: a guy or gal that's slightly overweight—say about two or three hundred pounds (slight exaggeration).

Storm or Bash: commonly referred to as a jam session.

Cat: This may be a fine definition for a gossip of the feminine sex but now it commonly refers to a fella with extremely draped pants, a bogey cut (a hair style that's long at the sides and brush at the top), and hep to the latest in jazz.

For the Birds: you can have that one; I don't want it!

Coolie or Garcon (garkon): a waiter.

Oeuf (oof): a geek.

Cool: favorite adjective meaning hot or sharp.

BOYS FIGHT, DADS JOIN— TRAGIC END

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. June 15 — (UP) — Two small boys began a fight. But it was one of their fathers who ended up in the hospital and the other father in jail.

Deputy sheriff, Warren Bateman said the two boys hardly had begun their battle yesterday when their mothers started to trade blows. When 24-year-old Frank Kline was told of the fight, he ran next door to have it out with J. F. Boatwright, 30, father of the other youngster.

Sheriff said Kline stabbed Boatwright in the heart with a pocketknife. Boatwright was in fair condition at a local hospital. Kline was jailed.

Pirate Scare Again Revived

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, June 15 — (CP) — Four men and a fishing boat disappeared yesterday, just two weeks after the "Paria Pirate" scare abated.

Several fishermen disappeared in the Paria Gulf during the last two months and police say they believed a band of pirates was operating off the coast in high-speed launches. Five men have been charged with murder in the death of one of the fishermen.

No trace was found today of four men, well known in the Port of Spain market place, who disappeared Monday. A small fishing craft and an outboard motor also were missing.

U.S. Representatives Plug Tax Loopholes

By Rex Chaney
Exclusive to the Bulletin

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—House tax writers let out yesterday after tax exempt businesses.

Members of the House ways and means committee believe that by closing this so-called "loophole" in the tax law the government would get an additional $100,000,000 a year.

The committee approved a proposal to tax the business earnings of labor, agricultural, horticultural, educational and charitable organizations.

At present, such "non-profit" organizations are tax exempt, even though they may operate department stores or manufacturing plants in competition with private firms.

UNFAIR ADVANTAGE

Spokesmen for these organizations, by and large, conceded that this was an unfair advantage that should not be permitted. The committee agreed, and voted to tax their earnings at regular corporation rates.

The provision applies only to "business earnings" and income obtained from interest, dividends, rents, royalties and capital gains will remain tax exempt.

The only exception made was for churches whose business activities will remain on the exempt list.

The plan is part of the committee's overall attempt to offset some $1,100,000,000 in excise tax cuts it already has approved.

President Truman has threatened to veto any legislation which does not make up the loss in revenues.

FOR TRUSTS, TOO

The committee also agreed to tighten up the law as it relates to the formation of tax-exempt trusts and foundations. It agreed on a provision to require that the contract establishing a trust or foundation must provide that no part of the assets may be loaned to the founder or any of his family or to any corporation owned by them.

Committee members made it clear that they had in mind operations of Textron, Inc., which was founded by Royal Little of Providence, R.I. Textron was the subject of a Senate investigation last year because of its method of operation.

The committee decided that if a trust is operated in violation of the strict provisions it set forth, the trust would lose tis tax exempt status. Similarly, gifts to it would not be deductible from the income tax of the donor.

Music Ban Appreciated In Westminster Halls

By Alan Harvey

LONDON, June 15.—(CP)—News that Canada has prohibited the playing of musical instruments in parliament touched a responsive chord here.

The Evening Standard investigated to find out whether a similar ban had ever been imposed in Britain, and decided that the nearest precedent occurred March 19, 1872.

The parliamentary report of that date says that notice was taken of the crowing of cocks, and "other disorderly noises," proceeding from members behind the chair. The speaker condemned these as gross violations and "expressed the pain with which he heard them."

On this evidence, the Standard said editorially, it seems apparent that a member of the United Kingdom parliament can still try to address the House by methods musical, as long as he steers clear of disorderly noises.

STORMY WEATHER

In fact, teetotallers in Westminster probably could advance their cause with a massed harp rendering, during a debate on beer or spirits, of a well-chosen ditty like "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes."

Expelled members could chant their farewell statements to the tune of "Stormy Weather," or "If I Had the Wings of an Angel."

"The idea has vast possibilities," the editorial added. It might see the conversion of the House of Commons into a conservatory, an Elysian grove where:

"When Atlee strikes the trembling lyre,
"The streams stand still, the stones admire."

The Standard's editorial followed an Ottawa press dispatch published in London which told how Rev. Dan Melvor, Liberal member of the Canadian parliament, took a tin flute out of his pocket and played during a division. The speaker, W. Ross Macdonald subsequently banned the playing of musical instruments in the chamber.

Peace River Oil Setup 'Red Hot'

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

Peace River area grew "red hot" yesterday with the announcement by Shell Oil company that the Shell B. A. Whitelaw No. 1 brought in oil at the rate of 500 to 600 barrels a day in the latest test. Officials figured it was at least a 500 barrel well. What acid might do to the lime formation was not commented upon.

Following a gas strike which may easily turn out to be one of the major fields in Alberta, the Shell bit struck oil in lime from 3,860 to 3,930 feet.

Refinery test of the crude showed 26.3 gravity oil.

The oil is thought to be coming from Pennsylvanian rock, a geological age which is completely absent from the plains of Alberta in the southern and central and most of northern positions and which has never been contacted in any previous drilling in the province.

MOTHER FORMATION

The Pennsylvanian, however, is the mother formation to vast and valuable coal deposits and to oil accumulations in the eastern United States.

The Triassic also made history by the fact that is not present except in the northwestern portions of the province and has never produced anything in Alberta before.

The Triassic gas bearing sand was 300 feet thick. Following penetration of the Triassic the Shell bit ground into lime, but it is not thought to have been Madison. The Madison is expected any time between the present depth of 4,090 feet and 4,300 feet.

LIVELIEST WILDCAT

The Shell B.A. Whitelaw well is probably the liveliest wildcat yet drilled in Alberta. As prospective horizons it still has the Madison and Upper and Middle Devonian.

The Normandville well 35 miles to the southeast is thought to be producing from the Middle Devonian as contrasted to Upper Devonian production at Leduc Redwater, Golden Spike and Stettler.

About 20 miles west and north of the Whitelaw well Stanolind Grimshaw is at 7,048 feet almost 300 feet below the Normandville producing depth.

Imperial Lalby about four miles southeast of Normandville is 6,937 feet, drilling 150 feet below the Normandville producing depth.

About 50 miles southeast of Normandville, five miles west of the western tip of Lesser Slave Lake Imperial Grouard is at 3,488 feet.

The Whitelaw well is being drilled by Shell on a 187,000 acre reservation belonging to B.A. Oil Company, Shell gets half interest in the acreage for doing the drilling.

★ ★ ★

Plans for an oil pipeline to the west coast have been made, and a preliminary survey for the construction of the line has been completed, according to the 11th annual report of Pacific Petroleums Limited.

Viewing the future in a highly optomistic tone the report refers to Alberta production and outlets. It said:

"The Inter-provinicial Pipe Line Company's system, including a line to serve the Redwater field, will be in operation by the end of 1950, and will provide adequate transportation for oil produced in the present producing areas."

"The effect of thus increasing the market area to be served by Alberta production will be to materially increase production rates."

COAST PIPELINE

Referring to planned oil pipeline to the Pacific Coast it said that this should further expand the market which may economically be served by northern oil fields.

Outlining the accomplishments of the year ended Feb 28, the report points to several milestones.

Production was increased almost 50 per cent. Gross 1950 oil revenue was $622,000 compared with $434,000 in 1949. Income was from Turner Valley, Princess and Redwater, $257,000, $43,000, $321,000, respectively.

39 REDWATER WELLS

During the year the company and its associates completed 22 Redwater wells for a total of 23. Since Feb. 28, 16 more have been completed for a total of 39. The company anticipates a total of 50 wells will be completed on the property presently held and being developed.

Virtually all of the companies properties have been brought under exploration and development. Partnership or farm-out arrangements have been completed with Royalite, Stanolind, Hudson's Bay, Union of California, Sunray and others.

Thus holdings in the Smith, Hardisty, Provost-Silver heights, Vale Dome, Wintering Hills and Peace River areas will come under exploration and development.

BIG NEW HOLDINGS

During the year past, Pacific acquired immense new holdings. Along with Sunray and Tidewater it took 1,349,000 on the Keg River area north of Peace River. Pacific acquired 777,000 acres in the Peace River area of British Columbia.

Regarding plans for the current year, the report said Pacific will drill at least eight wildcat wells. Four surface geological parties and four seismic parties will be employed.

One well will be drilled in the Keg River area, another on the 1,394,000 acres included in the Bear Oil project. Other half dozen wildcats are in addition to the development of proven acreage which Pacific will do.

NEW INTEREST

Pacific and its associates hold 3,409,000 acres in Alberta of which Pacific's net interest is 1,236,000.

Breakdown is: 801,000 acres in B.C., of which Pacific's interest is 217,000; 289,000 in Saskatchewan, of which Pacific's interest is 131,000; 20,000 acres totally held by Pacific in the Riding Mountain area of Manitoba.

Of 4,521,000 acres held, Pacific has a net interest of 1,605,000 acres, and of 1,800 acres in production Pacific has a net share of 941 acres.

Net income for the year ended Feb. 28 before write-offs was $548,173.12.
